ACTIVITIES

BACK-TO-SCHOOL
Open doors
greet students

1 – Students start a new day of school by walking through familiar doors. 2 – Karin Lowenberg holds up the wall during Break. 3 – Bill Bonnington, Gregg Schoen, and John Barber listen attentively to a lecture given by a Reed College professor in Senior Honors English class. 4 – Bus unloads eager students for another day of education. 5 – Mr. John Turchi's lecture brightens up the day for senior history students.

FALL PEP ASSEMBLIES

Rally promotes spirit, enthusiasm

1 - Autumn Feelings are shown by rally girls Kim Banister, Tammy McLean and Denise Chandler. 2 - Kathy Marsha and Julie Evans participate in Homecoming skit. 3 - Athletic Director Dave Steffens works hard organizing pep assemblies 4 - Halloween turns rally girls into cross country ghouls

HOMECOMING "Fall" provides October theme

This year's Homecoming, sponsored by the sophomore class, was entitled "Autumn Feelings." Bob McGranahan and Jeff Becker emceed the first Homecoming assembly and the selection of the court

During the week a great many returning alumni came to visit old friends and staff members. This helped add a "good-time" feeling to the week.

Friday and Saturday were the two big days that brought an end to the festivities. Both were packed with varied activities. Friday came with a Pep Assembly in which the seniors held a performance to show their spirit. Kirstin Munson was crowned Homecoming Queen. Friday night was the night of the dance, which carried over the theme "Autumn Feelings" and was a big success.

Saturday there was more excitement. The volleyball tournament was won by the seniors. Then came the car rally sponsored by the junior class. Barb Baylor, Marie Nygard, Marianne Kahonen, Heidi Hauge and Julie Woodworth won first prize with their Volkswagen "Bug-a-Boo."

The Homecoming Dance, also sponsored by the senior class, was next. Many people came beforehand to enjoy a good chicken dinner.

The Lakeridge-Centennial Homecoming football game was a big victory for the Pacers. Final score was 10-6.

1&2 - Bob McGranahan, chosen as M.C. for Homecoming week, explains the happenings of the week as Jeff Becker, the other M.C., looks on. 3 - Homecoming queen Kirstin Munson is escorted up the football field by her father. 4 - The HOME COMING COURT. SEATED: Patti Hatfield, Nancy Gianotti, Val Knight, Karen Bond, Queen Kirstin Munson, Kim Kasperek, Syd Clausen, Leslie Hardesty. STANDING: escorts Bob McGranahan, Niles Albering, Rick Aiken, Dave Beaudin, Wayne Lightburne, John Gray, Jim Ashton, Mike McGranahan, Brian Castonguay, Jeff Becker. 5 - Kirstin Munson is crowned queen by 1975 Homecoming Queen Carrie Westenhaver as Bob McGranahan, John Gray and the Symposium camera person looks on. 6 - The winner of the car rally, a V.W. appropriately named Bug-a-Boo, was created by Barb Baylor, Marie Nygard, Marianne Kahonen, Heidi Hauge and Julie Woodworth. 7 - Junior Princess Kim Kasperek has stars in her eyes as Jim Ashton escorts her up to the court.

FALL CONCERT

Confident choirs, band perform

This year's Pacer music department had much more confidence than in years past. Mr. Steve Ticeen started the year off by conducting the Pacer Choir through their melody from "Oliver." The songs involved showed versatility in the young group.

The Concert Choir also showed their musical talents as they performed various styles of music. Highlights of the evening included a quartet solo in the "Alleluia."

As Company was warming up, Kelley Renner warmed the crowd with an energetic rendition of Despina's aria.

The Company of '76 and '77 showed their ability to sing all kinds of styles ranging from western to classical. The songs were entitled "Don't Take Away the Music," "South Rampart Street Parade" and their favorite, "What I Did For Love."

To fill out the evening the Stage Band took the floor and played "Manhattan South," "Love's Theme" and "Uncle Albert." It was Mr. Clark's first appearance on the Lakeridge stage and it was very successful and well received.

There were many solos and each was performed well.

1 - Kelley Renner sings her solo, Despina's aria from Mozart's Cose' fan Tutti, between the performances of the Stage and Concert Choirs. 2 - The group of vocalists - better known as the Pacer Choir - begin la-la-ing (singing) a rendition from the musical "Oliver." Specialists in detail are Franey McGranahan and Beth Luckinbeal. 3 - All eyes focus on choir director Mr. Steve Ticeen while the Lakeridge Concert Choir sings Mozart's "It is Good to be Merry," a cappella, to start off the '76 and '77 concert season.

FALL PLAY

New director enjoys success

The Lakeridge theater season started with the play "The Life of the Party." The cast was small but worked efficiently with the new drama director Mr. Richard Barnes land, who portrayed a lonely little girl who exploded out of her shell only to realize that it is better to be who you really are than to act or pretend to be something you're not. The play was well received as a propitious opening for the Lakeridge season.

The play centered on Donna Har-

1 - Clark Swinford and Sheila Sulliger get ready to leave for the prom. 2 - The father of Jean (better known as the life of the party) quietly sits while trying to unravel the happenings of the past few minutes. 3 - Donna Harland portrays Jean, shown here regretting the attitude she carried through the evening and the way she acted at her party. 4 - In the middle of the hubbub came Pat Long as the neighborhood cop. 5 - In the end everyone was happy and as the curtain went up we saw Pat Long, Judy Fairborn, Cindy Kotilla, Terry Ward, Niles Albering, Julie Sanders, Clark Swinford, John Barber, Dave Matthew, Donna Harland, Karen Matson, Sheila Sulliger, Dave Hodel, Pattie Hatfield, Leanne Platt, Anne Buckley and Jill Marble.

FALL SPORTS AWARDS

Season's athletes get recognition

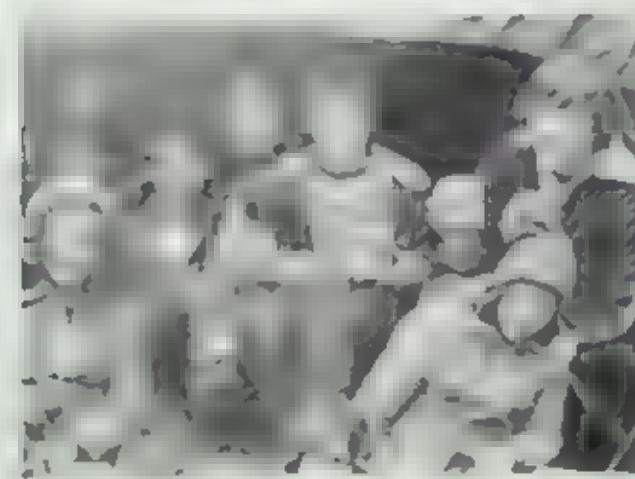

The 1976 fall season was immensely successful for Lakeridge teams. This was reflected in the cheerful tone of Fall Sports Awards Night.

At the Fall Sports Awards Night recognition for outstanding performances was given to cross country, football, volleyball, soccer and gymnastics participants with certificates of participation and a school letter.

The format for the evening was a joint meeting of all sports in the auditorium followed by individual team gatherings to present awards. After Principal James Schell and Athletic Director Don Kieling remarked on the 1976 season, coaches presented awards to each athlete. Afterwards, everyone enjoyed cake in the cafeteria.

1 — Dick Stevens speaks on behalf of the varsity football team. 2 — Denise Chandler, Kathy Parsons and the rest of the fall rally receive some much deserved recognition from rally instructor Mrs. Raymore. 3 — Nancy Montgomery, Linda Curtis, and Leslie Cronn are awarded certificates of participation for soccer. 4 — Senior football participants receive school letters.

SECOND WIND Pacer volunteers have big success

The Second Wind Food Drive gets its name from the service it provided of giving a second wind to empty food shelves. The Portland area's needy got a good response this year from Lakeridge, a marked improvement over efforts in the past four years. One hundred and ten kids canvassed the Lakeridge area on the weekend of February 28 and collected literally tons of food. Largely responsible for this year's success was Alan Bacharach, who capably headed the drive.

1 - Bev Luckinbeal helps perform the much needed service of filling empty food shelves. 2 - A happy bunch of canvassers display their spoils. 3 - A resident of the Lakeridge area gladly contributes canned goods to Project Second Wind. 4 - Second Wind Organizers. BACK ROW: Lexie Dobbins, Liz Johnson, Liz Smyth, Alan Bacharach, Tonya Rogers, Tom Rothenberger, Jason Ford, Mr. Herb Dir. FRONT ROW: Jim Henson, Kris DeGreef, Karylinn Hunting, Brynne Hunting, Bev Luckinbeal, Becky Schultz, Scott Armfield

CHRISTMAS WEEK

Traditional Yule celebration held

Bums, adorable children, zany costumes, and living trees constituted the unlikely potpourri that was Christmas at Lakeridge 1976. The election and crowning of the traditional court, reigned over by Jenny Bird, dominated an activity-studded week. The court travelled to the Convalescent Home to sing carols and present cards that students had made. They also took gifts to a nursery school and were presented to LOHS at their assembly.

Dress-up day created a lot of bums but also some more traditional figures. Tom Fee was a gigantic Christmas package and Liz Johnson, a candy cane. Both won first prizes.

Doors were sprucely decorated, but the most apparent change this year was the size of the four trees in the Commons. Since they were living, they were only some seven feet tall, but still merrily decked out.

1 — Mrs. Claus (Becky Pennington) and Santa's elf (Debbie King) can't wait until Santy Poo (Chris Marshall) reads off the name of the next princess. 2 Freshman princess Sooney Mackin and escort Todd Aiken pose with their Christmas child

3 — Our Christmas Court for 1976: Soo-

CHRISTMAS CONCERT

Yule performers wow crowd

The 1976 Christmas concert was a huge success. The Concert Choir, Pacer Choir, Stage Choir, Company, and the Concert Band performed to a full auditorium and earned themselves a standing ovation at the end of the performance.

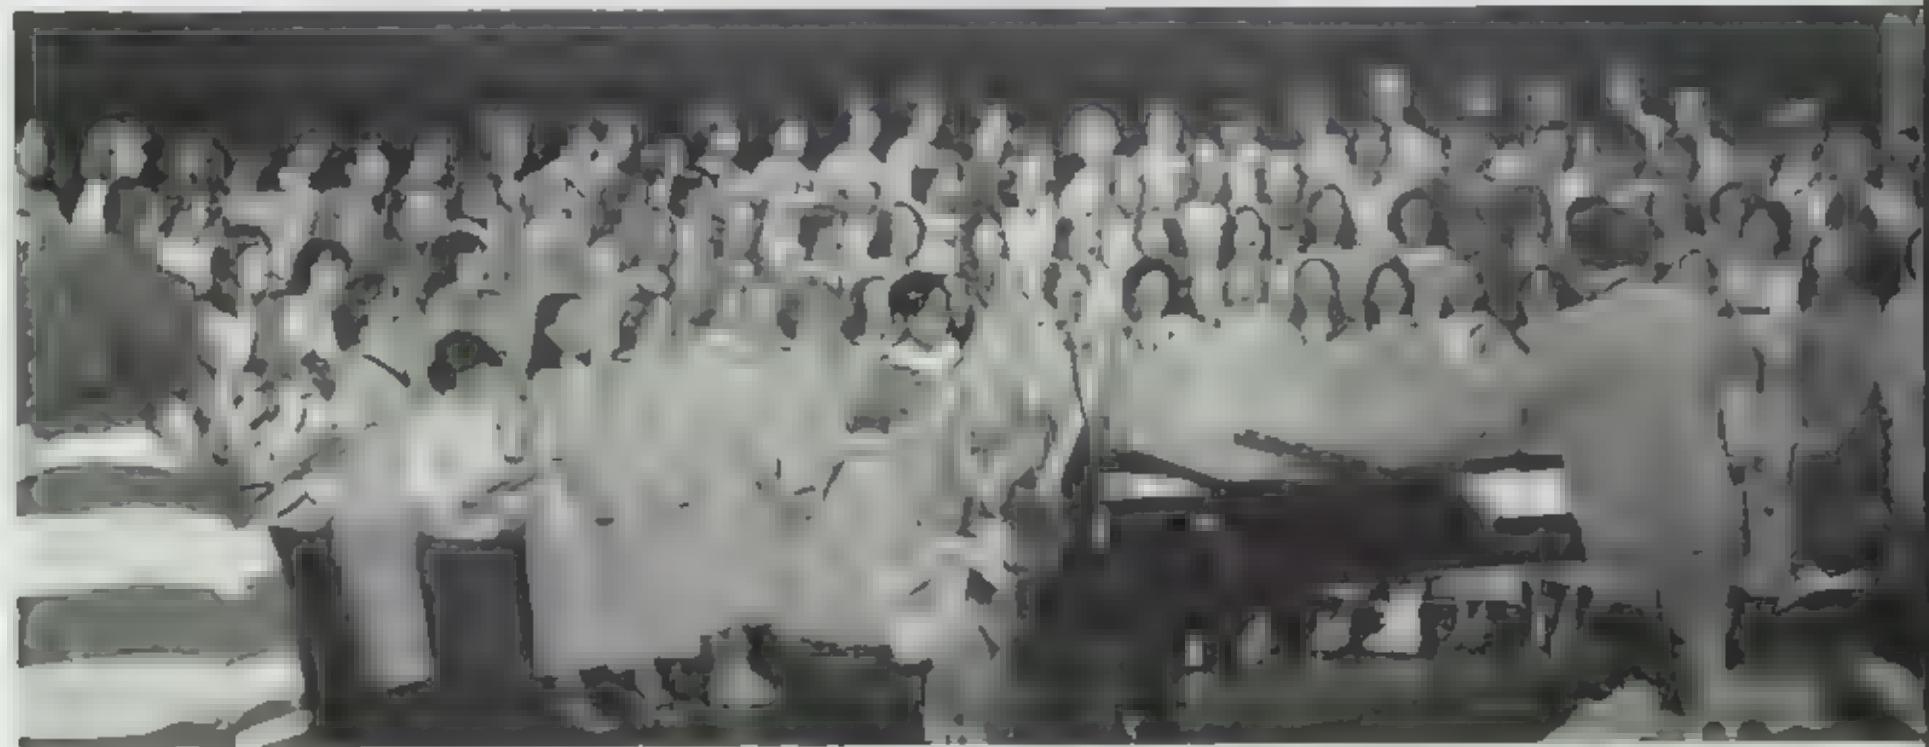

In an early number, the Stage Choir presented a lively choreographed arrangement of "A Night Before Christmas." Company then came on and sang "Christmas Eve Christmas 5/4 Time," and the classic "Silent Night." Pacer Choir performed "Bouree for Bach," "Dona Nobis Pacem," in Latin, and ended with "Jazz Gloria" which featured instrumentalists Heidi Hand, Jeff Olson, Mark Pennington, Mark DeLong, Jason Ford, and Shannon Yagi.

Mr. William Tice, a Portland area soloist, was featured in selections from "The Messiah" which the Concert Choir presented. The popular "Hallelujah Chorus" climaxed these songs with Lakeridge choirs joining the massed choirs on stage.

Three arrangements, "Godspell Medley," "La Fete de Noel," and "The Happy Sounds of Christmas," were presented by the Concert Band to conclude the well-received musical evening.

1 - Shannon Yagi, Tom Shepherd, Jeff Olson, Mark DeLong accompany Pacer Choir on "Jazz Gloria." 2 - Stage Choir brings to life "Twas the Night Before Christmas" in a version choreographed by Lori Fenger. 3 - Pacer alumni join Concert and Pacer Choirs in the "Hallelujah Chorus."

WINTER PEP ASSEMBLIES

Pacer spirit is sky high

1 — Jeff Becker, Bob McGranahan, Dave Steffens, and Steve Grider show spirit by attempting the can-can. 2 — Mrs. Letty Owings demonstrates that pep assemblies are not just for sports by promoting spirit for Second Wind. 3 — Lois Pothetes dives into a bowl of cereal during Grandma Grider's skit. 4 — Mr. Jim Jamison, Mrs. Rosemary Raymore, and Mr. George Sovi portray John Boy, Phyllis Diller, and

Rex Reed in Lakeridge's version of the "Gong Show." 5 — The "Mad Flasher," Jim Cone, is caught in the act

SPRING WEEK

Turnabout ends winter blues

This year, instead of having a Valentine's Week, Lakeridge had a Spring Week. Senior Jeff Auxier was selected as the Spring King out of a great selection of guys and Sandy Anderson was his escort. A well-advertised dance was the main event of the week. The band "The Great Divine" provided the dancers with music for three hours on that Friday night. All in all, it was a fun week for everyone.

Athletes feted at assembly

The Winter Sports Awards Dessert was a night when all of the athletes from basketball, swimming, skiing, and wrestling received awards for their performances. Some very special awards were presented and laughs shared. The dessert afterwards was sponsored by the Pacer Club and turned out to be very successful.

SPRING MUSICAL

'Guys and Dolls' wins ovation

Outrageous! That's the word that best describes the dynamic performance of "Guys and Dolls," the spring musical given by some talented students. Spectacular singing, dancing, and acting highlighted the truly entertaining Broadway fable.

Steve Tice, Richard Barnes and Larry Cunningham of Lake Oswego High School cooperated to direct the extravaganza. Student direction was by Jill Marble. The clever set was constructed by the cast with special efforts and help by Jim Koll and Jerry Baars.

MAY WEEK

Events spark spring magic

The sun didn't shine, but the May Week festivities lightened the students' and staff's days at Lakeridge. "Could It Be Magic" was the theme of the week which — if not magic — was at least just plain fun.

Early Monday morning eight boys or girls were surprised as the 1977 May Court was announced. The week's agenda included a foreign food fair, a hobby fair, live music during lunch periods, and the now traditional Generation Gap dinner and dance.

The highlight of the week was Friday morning's assembly, which many said was the best ever put on at Lakeridge. The Drama class and many other seniors put together an entertaining spoof on the television show "Saturday Night Live," featuring such favorite characters as the South American Killer Bees, the Cone Heads, and the Samurai Warriors. Highlight of the show was of course the crowning of Queen Starla Clausen.

The week culminated in the bewitching magic of the Junior-Senior Prom, held at Marylhurst College.

1 — Bill Gunn and Kirk Hawkins match skill with foos ball opponents. 2 — Students gorge on food prepared by the Foreign Language Department. 3 — A bird's-eye view is taken of ship miniatures by John Barber. 4 — Jon Evans and Cindy Curtis cavort in Anything Goes Assembly. 5 — Princess Tina Hansen. 6 — Princess Robin Meredith. 7 — Princess Anne Gianotti. 8 — Princess Debbie Hart. 9 — 1977 May Queen Starla Clausen. 10 — Queen Starla is congratulated by Rosemary Raymore and Gordy James. 11 — Queen Starla Clausen. 12 — Princess Debbie Pearson. 13 — Princess Julie Evans. 14 — Princess Carolyn Ramsay

1 - Senior Ant Dancers file in to present Queen Starla with a gift. 2 - Cone heads Becky Hefford and Maurice Mettler introduce skit with a quick game of ring toss. 3 - The singing of John Havens and Don Anderson highlighted the assembly. 4 - Niles Albering and Brent Markee's mystical powers produce Donna Harland. 5 - Killer Bees, Mark Grabow, Debbie King and Suzanne Curtis, invade Cone head Jenny Bird's feast prepared by Samurai caterers Rick Torres and Dave Steffens. 6 - Kathi Jordan presents Princess Anne Gianotti with a plant and a kiss.

JUNIOR-SENIOR PROM

Magic evening well attended

The theme for the Junior-Senior Prom was "Could It Be Magic?" Everyone who went agreed that indeed the night was magic! One of the biggest events of the year, the Prom took place at Marylhurst Commons on May 14 from 8:30 p.m. to midnight.

Live doves in the entryway, a romantic backdrop with Middle Eastern flavor, painted by Julie Evans and Maurice Mettler, and balloons festooned from the ceiling, all were results of the imagination and hard work of decorations chairman Deanie Harkson.

The band "Brothers and Friends" provided great music for dancing. Refreshments consisted of punch and cake.

1 — "Brothers and Friends" provide danceable music. 2 — Principal and Mrs. James Schell are surrounded by dancers on crowded floor. 3 — Popular feature is punch bowls which have form of fountains

SPRING SPORTS AWARDS

Dave, Rhonda recognized

Don Keiling and Galen Spillum opened the evening with speeches. Awards were presented to all members of spring sports which included golf, tennis, track and baseball. Teams and captains were announced. Special congratulations went to Dave Steffans and Rhonda Weidman for their participation in the state track meet.

The meeting ended on a sad note for some when the announcement was made that Gordy James and Mike Gremillion would be leaving Lakeridge.

SPRING CONCERT

Glorious music ends season

On the night of June 1, Lake ridge's music department presented its final concert of the year. The various musical groups put the year's efforts into the spring festivity.

The Concert Choir just returning from a tour to Seattle, Washington, and Victoria, B.C., sang selections from Brigadoon and other numbers from their tour repertoire.

Choral director Steve Tice stated that he was overwhelmed by the crowd's congratulatory gestures and messages at the concert's end. The applause was gratifying.

1 — Stage Band members followed the tradition of dressing up in various costumes for the final concert of the year.
2 — Accompanied by Mr. Steve Tice, the Stage Choir performs enthusiastically.
3 — One of the favorite songs performed at the concert was a selection including solos by many musicians such as Kathy Kopet.
4 — Bob McGranahan and Donna Harland present a farewell present from the choir to Mr. Steve Tice.

BANQUET OF CHAMPIONS

Full crowd hears Dr. J.

The fourth annual appreciation dinner for the athletes of the year was again an overwhelming success. Thanks to the hard work of the Pacer Club and fund-raising throughout the year by that group, the athletes were honored free of charge with a filling three-course meal.

Speaking at the dinner were the incomparable Mr. David (Smock) McCormick and the World Champion Trailblazer Coach Dr. Jack Ramsay. English teacher McCormick MC'ed the affair in lieu of Jim Busley who could not attend because of illness. With his usual outrageous humor, McCormick wowed the crowd.

Due to the number of letter sports this year many of the athletes were not able to be seated, but were invited to come up and listen to Dr. Ramsay speak. Ramsay was greeted with a standing ovation as he spoke and related his sports experience to his life and told how each athlete can better himself on and off the courts.

Later in the evening, the team captains and outstanding members of each team were named and honored. Each captain received a plaque with his name and sport on it.

To conclude the evening, Mr. Don Keiling awarded the Pacer Athlete-of-the-Year Awards to best athletes Jenny Bird and Dave Steffens. Then Dan Young made a special presentation to Dave Steffens from his younger classmates for the help he had given them in the past three years.

1 — Jerry Britsch accepts thanks and congratulations on a fine football season from Coach Tom Smythe. 2 — Mrs. Rosemary Raymore presents Debbie Hart with a rally award. 3 — Members of the audience rise to give athletes a well-deserved ovation. 4 — Guest speaker Jack Ramsay delights audience with his gentle but emphatic views of athletics and life. 5 — M.C. David McCormick is in fine form with his punny introductions. 6 — In a brief speech acknowledging the varsity lettermen, Dr. James Schell cites the importance of good sportsmanship. 7 — While enjoying the evening's activities, VIP's at the head table pose for a picture. 8 — Mr. Don Keiling presents the Sportsmanship trophy for boys to Dave Steffens. 9 — Jennifer Bird graciously thanks Mr. Don Keiling for her Sportsmanship trophy.

AWARDS ASSEMBLY

Many honored, awarded prizes

1 — Mrs. Pat Wellons welcomes Dave Matthew into the Lakeridge 40 Club. 2 Jimmy Dorsey is the first recipient of the Paul Harmer Memorial Scholarship, given to him by Mr. Ace Harmer. 3 — Robin Meredith graciously accepts her well deserved Super Pacer Girl Award from Scholarship Committee Chairman, Mrs David Bird. 4 — Carolyn Ramsay and Clay Actor listen closely as Mr. John Turchi describes their participation in the History Department at Lakeridge. 5 The 20 Oregon Scholars receive their certificates of recognition from Dr. James Schell

GRADUATION

Solemn seniors receive diplomas

At 8 p.m., Thursday, June 9, the graduating class of 1977 marched solemnly into the gymnasium which was filled with more than 1200 family members, teachers and friends. Following a brief invocation given by class president Chris Marshall, the Company and Concert Choir performed two selections which tied in with the theme "Towards New Horizons." John Havens and Janice Smith were senior speakers. Guest speaker Mr. Michael Wendt urged students to get involved with life, not just sit down and watch it pass by. Dr. James Schell then spoke briefly and presented the class to Dr. Lloyd Millhollen. A thrilling sense of anticipation was experienced by all those graduating when they heard School Board Chairman Terry Baker speak the words, "Will the class of 1977 please come forward and receive your diplomas?"

Following a short, but touching benediction given by Alexandra Neale, Phil Zender walked to the podium, made a few brief announcements, and signified the end of the commencement ceremonies by motioning his classmates to move the tassles on their caps from left to right.

1 — The class of 1977 claps after hearing one guest speaker while eagerly awaiting the acquisition of their diplomas. 2 — Senior speaker Janice Smith bids a touching farewell to all her classmates. 3 — John Havens delivers a speech reflecting the theme "Towards New Horizons" by talking about the need for personal involvement while in today's society. 4 — While waiting for the beginning of the commencement ceremony, seniors reminisce their past four years at Lakeridge

1 - Guest speaker Rosemary Raymore recalls moments she has shared with many of the graduates. 2 - After moving the tassel from the left to the right side of the side of his cap, Phil Zender motions for the class to rise. 3 - Kelly O'Donnell, Jay LaPierre, and friends share a quiet moment after leaving the gym. 4 - Kim Ohm, Karl Burden, Jon Hanington, Clay Actor, and Marilyn Leach join in a group effort to mount their caps properly on their heads

KIDNAP PARTY

Seniors go bump in the night

Shortly after the commencement ceremonies were over, anxious graduates crowded into four parent sponsored school buses, in eager anticipation of reaching an unknown destination. First stop was the Milwaukie Elks Club where students poured out of the buses flooding the ballroom.

After everyone had a chance to help themselves to the sandwich-making supplies, a dance began which lasted until approximately 1 p.m. At that time, parents escorted the happy bunch back into their buses.

At Oaks Park Rollerskating Rink, students floated across the floor, taking in the organist's tunes.

Swimming was next at 3 a.m. at the Lake Oswego High School pool. More than half the graduates donned their suits, entered the water, and participated in activities ranging from "Chicken fights" to diving.

At 4:30 Friday morning, exhausted yet still rowdy students gathered at Bethlehem Church to watch the sun rise, eat breakfast, and receive individual awards. By 6:30 each had drifted off in his own direction.

1 - Eagerly waiting for the buses to leave, 1977 graduates let out a tremendous cheer. 2 - Mrs. Carl Lauersen discusses with Dr. and Mrs. Tom McGranahan the chances of running out of sandwich-making supplies. 3 - Groovin' to the tunes, Becky Hefford's style is captured by the camera's eye.

1 - After arriving at the Milwaukie Elks Club, students pour out of the buses and rush into the dance hall. 2 - Mrs. David Bird looks on as seniors employ varied methods of cramming into the buses. 3 - Party-goers discuss the past four years, the present, and plans for the future

AFS

Visitors enjoy active year

Chapter co-presidents Jay Evans and Michael Wendt worked with club president Gary Smith and other members of the staff to keep coming up with activities to keep exchange students busy.

At a picnic late in August, AFS exchange students were greeted by Lakeridge students. Everyone had a chance to meet Wolfgang Swoboda, who came from Austria to stay with the Hinson family, and Miriam DeLogne, who lived with the Edwards family.

Highlights for these students included a trip to the Pendleton round-up in September and a camping expedition with all the other AFS'ers from Oregon in October.

In the months from January to April, the exchange students, now including Liat Shargil from Israel, travelled all over the state, meeting with other exchange students and speaking at school-sponsored assemblies.

In June a going-away party at Mrs. Lois Hancock's house gave everyone a chance to remember fun times, say good-bye, and exchange addresses in hopes of keeping in touch with these newly-made friends.

COMMUNITY PACERS Service club sponsors events

The Community Pacers (COM/PAC), Lakeridge's only service club, recorded an outstanding year of community involvement. Activities included city Christmas tree decorating, Christmas entertainment for senior citizens, and a spring picnic for over 150 senior citizens. The picnic was undoubtedly the club's high point, as they spent many hours and much money in preparation. The club raised money by collecting bottles, selling cookies, and accepting private donations.

Dan Young, energetic president of the club, stated, "I hope next year we can expand our activities. We must develop more student interest. It is important that Lakeridge have a mutual relationship with the community."

1 - Debbie Hart offers salad dressing to a senior citizen. 2 - Families enjoy dining al fresco at spring picnic. 3 - Tawny Mihnos (foreground), Dan Young, and Debbie Hart keep food trays full at picnic.

MERIT AWARDS COMM.

Committee has profitable year

This year's Merit Awards Committee had a most eventful and rewarding year. The committee raised over $4,500 which will help encourage students in all areas of achievement. The money-making projects consisted of a Bike-a-thon, the selling of Pacer cushions, donation letters to local businesses and Lake-ridge parents, a bake sale, a ski day, a fashion show, and, to end the year, a successful rummage sale.

The money the committee raised went towards the departmental awards which are based on scholarship, responsibility, craftsmanship, citizenship, and service to the department. The Super Pacer Boy and Girl Awards are given to the two outstanding seniors chosen by the entire student body and faculty. The Merit Committee also coordinated the Memorial Fund for deceased seniors Paul Harmer and Kelly Jo Carroll.

FORENSICS

Two speakers go to Nationals

Lakeridge Speech and Debate squad had their best success ever this year at the state tournament sending two orators to Nationals on June 20. Terry Ward earned his ticket to Seattle by taking first place in Humorous Interpretation at the State meet. Maggie Gallagher did so by bringing home a first place trophy in Oratory and second place in Girls Extemporaneous speaking at the National Forensics League Tournament.

Brady Jensen stood out as a promising extemp speaker by placing in or winning tournaments at Lewis and Clark, Linfield, Pacific, and the University of Oregon.

Mike Teahan showed diversity by branching into various speech events while competing in both Lincoln-Douglas and Oxford debate. Janet Meloy showed promise by placing third in Lincoln-Douglas debate at both Delta and Bend tournaments.

Cathy Marshall and Andy Nacrelli also took home trophies in major tournaments. Cathy placed second in the District tournament in Serious Interpretation while Andy took first place at Pacific University in Lincoln-Douglas debate.

NEWPACER

Paper hindered by low funds

"Newspacer," the school newspaper, was hit hard by financial difficulty. Adviser David McCormick said, "Because of severe budget cuts in Journalism, we were able to print only seven issues compared to the thirteen or fourteen that we have printed in past years." Although this was a severe handicap for the paper, the class did a good job with what they had to work with. Senior Bruce Cordon was the Managing Editor, but the responsibilities were shared by everyone in the class. The Editorial staff was especially strong. The editorials were thought-provoking though sometimes controversial, for example the issue over the "I Found It" campaign and the selection of a subject for the mural in the Commons.

The staff looks forward to more funds next year for bigger and better papers.

PACER CLUB

Parents provide Pacer power

Their membership was small, but their impact — tremendous! Eleven parents, under the leadership of President Rosemary Marshall, met monthly in the P.O.W. room and generated impressive results.

Their Merit Awards Committee collected and raised over $4,000 to be spent on awards and whatever else was needed. This money was raised by the rummage sale and the fashion show which many seniors participated in.

The club also helped sponsor the Commons mural, contributing $250, and the new electronic scoring system of the upper baseball field. On the personal side, they sponsored Maggie Gallagher to Seattle to compete in nationals in oratory and extemp.

Throughout the year, the club contributed time, volunteers and money to aid the school. Many of the office, library and other volunteers in the building were found through the club. Activities such as the Generation Gap dinner and dance, and the Banquet of Champions were made possible by the work of this group of parents.

To help parents see Lakeridge as it really is, the club sponsored the three parent information nights where parents met in the Rotunda to hear about the results of a survey taken earlier in the year. Between 60-70 people showed up for each of these nights.

1 — Pacer Club coordinators Jim Schell, Mrs. Hovig, June Young, Gerri Bird, and John Stirek pose for a picture. 2 — Mrs. Phyllis Arnold, Mrs. Marge Cortese, and Mrs. Rosemary Marshall also helped as coordinators. 3 — One of the activities that the Pacer Club sponsored was the Generation Gap Dance. 4 — The club also sponsored the Model "A" mural which was painted in the Commons.

PEP CLUB

Guardian Angels love their men

Alexandria Neale was president of the Pep Club, but stated, "Although I was president, Dana Adamson did just as much work as I. I only had the title." She indicated the year was a "money-making" year for the tee shirts they planned to have next year.

The club was a group of 20 regular members and 150 alternative members whose main function was to be Guardian Angels. These girls were each in charge of one athlete during football and basketball season, giving support and encouragement by decorating her guys locker and providing him with all sorts of baked goodies. At the end of the seasons, the club threw a party for the players who were told individually who their angels were.

The Guardian Angel plan was also tried with soccer and gymnastics to see if it would work. The leaders hoped for more Angel turnouts for these and other sports.

RALLY

New squad helps promote spirit

This year, a new varsity rally squad was added to the club. They were called the multiple sports rally. They cheered for soccer, gymnastics, wrestling, baseball, tennis, track and golf.

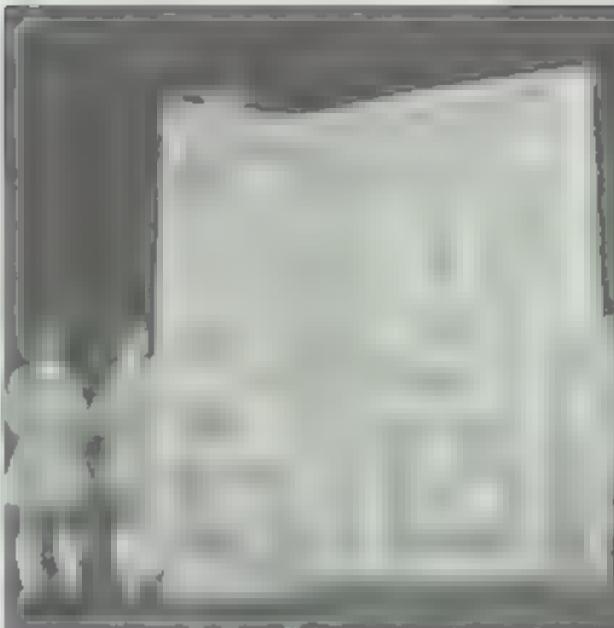

Fall rally cheered for football, girls basketball, swimming, and skiing.

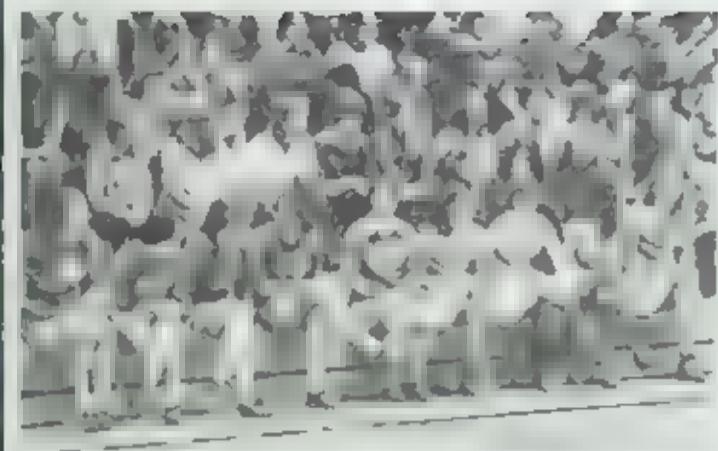

Winter rally helped out at basketball games and cross-country meets.

The junior varsity and freshman rally squads cheered at all sports activities.

All of the squads were headed by Mrs. Rosemary Raymore. The girls painted signs, provided hungry athletes with food, and cheered at pep assemblies. The rally squads were an important part of making this year special.

SMOKING COMMITTEE

Smokers work toward goals

The smoking committee met once a quarter to make decisions concerning the use and maintenance of the smoking area

This year the smoking area was open for use all day rather than just at break and lunch, a policy which existed last year. This change came about because of the relative lack of problems and the better behavior present in the area

Responsibility for cleaning the area was in the hands of volunteers who used the area

1 - Students converse in the smoking area. 2 - Overhang provided shelter from winter rains. 3 - Joe Franciscone and Sten Sonenson take a break. 4 - Smoking Committee members are Larry Fischer, Kris Scharer and Rich Barton

BOYS STATE

■ Eight politicos go to conference

Boys State is a state conference of boys interested in state and local government. They meet at Oregon College of Education to study government at the city, county, and state level.

1 — Attending Boys State as counselors were Phil Zender, Clay Actor and Dave Matthew. 2 — Jeff Zender, Joe Breuner, Dan Young, and Alan Bacharach joined Mike Teahan as delegates.

STUDENT ASSEMBLY

Ashton leads fellow students

One of the more successful May Weeks was one of the feathers in caps of the 1976-77 Lakeridge Student Assembly members. Christmas week activities also demanded much time and effort.

The Assembly originated a new policy for selecting rally members. Applicants must accrue a certain number of points (from service, grades, etc.) before they may try out.

Chairman Jim Ashton, Commons Director Rachel Owings, Athletics Director Dave Steffens, Activities Director Robin Meredith, Community Service Director LuAnne Gribling, and Secretary-Treasurer Traci Walton worked in conjunction with the class presidents in producing a highly successful year.

CLASS COUNCILS

Dances are chief product

Four very active class councils planned successful events and money-raising activities for the student body this year. The senior class council, lead by President Chris Marshall, planned the Christmas dance; the junior class council and Deannie Harkson organized Lakeridge's prom; and Chris Herder and the sophomore class council planned the Homecoming dance and activities.

Traditional events like "Halloween Night" and the Lakeridge Brunch were also successes.

THESPians

Active troupe boosts theater

The Thespians, Lakeridge's drama company, added several new members this year. New Thespians included Amy Norman, "Miss Sarah" of "Guys and Dolls," and Jim Koll the production engineer for "Guys and Dolls" who made the excellent sets possible.

A highlight for the troupe this year was the University of Portland Speech Arts Festival. Joel Shaw, a very talented member of the company, did well enough to make finals standing in solo acting.

President of the Thespian Company was Donna Harland; Vice-President was Clark Swinford. They were responsible for planning and carrying out initiation into the troupe and keeping track of Thespian points for each member, as well as carrying on the Thespian tradition at Lakeridge. The troupe is part of the International Thespian Society, which is dedicated toward the betterment of the theater in secondary schools.

YAC

Youths lobby for bills

Youth Action Coalition is a student lobbyist group that actively lobbies for reform of state laws pertaining to young people. This year at Lakeridge over 20 people were active in Youth Action Coalition, the largest group ever.

Among the most enthusiastic were Mark Grabow, Jeff Zender, and Jerry Baars. All of them actively lobbied in Salem for reform in the drinking age to 19.

Another person active in Salem this year, although not with YAC, was Kathy Dellett. She introduced a bill into the Oregon Legislature pertaining to bike path safety and received wide publicity in the local media.

SYMPOSIUM

"People" paces to publication

An industrious staff, acting under the supervision of Jo Wollen, worked under pressure from September until June on the yearbook, "Symposium." The co-editors Deanna Baldwin and Katrina Lauersen used the meaning of the word "symposium" as a foundation for the theme of the book and arrived at the word "people" to serve as the topic of the book. The inability to meet deadlines was one problem the staff was plagued with throughout the year; however, most obstacles were eventually overcome.

The year started with a successful advertising campaign which raised over $1,000 — almost 100 per cent more than raised in any previous year. Decisions made during class discussions concerning the use of this money resulted in the full color cover and printed endsheets present.

Art Editor Terry Ward gave much time to the book, providing all the artwork on division pages and cover. Associate Editor Karl Burden assisted by helping with key decisions such as choosing print type, as well as helping pick up on loose ends on the technical side of the book. Andy Nacrelli, Maurice Mettler, Rosemary Lashbrook, Jon Huntington, Sue Gellos, Cristi Gordon, and Pete Nelson were other assisting editors. Dave Critzer and Chris Larsen rounded out the staff. Alan Balzer, Jim Koll, Jeanette Nelson, and Dave Vincent were the hard-working photographers. Editor Katrina Lauersen exclaimed, "The publication of a $10,000 yearbook is an example of what industrious students can accomplish when working together towards what they know is an imperative goal." Adviser Mrs Jo Wollen added, "This was a super group of kids — cooperative and dedicated."

SPORTS

VARSITY FOOTBALL

Underdog Pacers win division title

At the outset of the 1976 football season, the Pacer varsity program seemed destined to finish behind strong Milwaukie and Putnam teams. But the loss of twenty of the previous year's starters did not discourage the players or the coaching staff who shared an optimistic view of the upcoming season. Head coach Tom Smythe asserted, "Our club has no superstars, but I think we have enough consistently good players to win a championship."

After losing a heartbreaker to Gresham in a non-counting, cross-divisional game, the Pacers made believers out of everyone by consecutively beating favored Milwaukie and Putnam to put themselves in the driver's seat.

In the following games, the Pacers' play was inconsistent. Come-from-behind efforts provided wins on occasions which many people felt the Pacers should have won hands-down. But when matched against a strong opponent they truly rose to the occasion, playing perhaps their strongest, most intense game in an unfortunate loss to Lake Oswego in the Wilco League Championship game.

Lakeridge was awarded the Willamette Division title as well as many individual honors. Eleven team members were elected to the Division All-Star team. Doug Wright, Scott Withers, Ken Rolfe, Jeff Auxier, Randy Martin, and John Falla made first team. Dave Kraske, Dick Stevens, Rick Runckel, and Kevin Auxier were selected for the second team. George Pothetes, Pete O'Brien, and Jeff Britsch got Honorable Mentions.

JV FOOTBALL

Team equality creates all stars

The JV team of '76 went undefeated throughout the season although consisting mostly of sophomores. As Coach Jerry Grossen said, the team was "a combination of people who all put forth a great effort" and who "had a good attitude." A leader of the squad was quarterback Jon Evans, who Grossen said improved tremendously from his experience, both running and passing.

Grossen also said his team used a "run and shoot" offense and claimed they were "not afraid to do things on the field. We will gamble because we don't want to sit around; we want to force the action." The running game was spearheaded by Wayne Lightburne and Mark Miller. Also running the ball, when not playing varsity, were Alan Burt, a junior, and Andy Nacrelli, a sophomore. The Pacer front line, which was always strong, was led by Spike Ward, John Dunlap and Stuart Simmons.

The ends, Bill Kuhnert and Steve Winter, were, in Grossen's words, "the two best blocking ends I've ever seen on the JV level."

1 — Mark Miller finds a hole and goes for a Pacer T.D. 2 — Reaching for a long bomb, Gary Newhoff shows despair. 3 — JV FOOTBALL. The JV defense deserves no less praise as they forced the action on the field. Defense was led this year by junior linebacker Joe Barberio, who called all of the defensive plays.

This year's JV team had a great season and as they move up to the varsity level, should provide the talent needed for many seasons to come.

FROSH FOOTBALL

High spirits lead to 6-1 mark

Coaches John Sanders and Mike Gremillion had one of the worst turnouts in Pacer history this year. But although only 25 people were on the frosh team, they had one of the most successful seasons they have ever had with a record of 6 wins and 1 loss.

The frosh were led by quarterbacks Tom Leahy and Dan Kern as well as runners Tim Nacrelli and Craig Mitchell. Their toughest game of the season was against Lake Oswego which the Pacers narrowly won after Fred Rothenberger picked up a fumble and ran it in for the winning touchdown.

1 — Jon Evans runs uncontested down-field with the aid of fellow teammates. 2 — Team offensive plays as shown here promoted the fine season record the JV team shared. 3 — FRESHMAN FOOTBALL. BOYS GYMNASTICS

Injuries hinder performances

The Pacer boys gymnastics team completed another winning season this year with a seven win, four loss record and placed fifth in the district meet held at Clackamas. This year's team, although hurt by injuries, set several team and individual school records. The team set a new school record in overall scoring with a mark of over 109 points. Jon Hanington set new school records in the all-around and floor exercise. In the all-around, Karl Burden also did very well, scoring only twenty-five thousandths less than Hanington, and he erased the old record in the rings with a new high mark of 8 at the district competition. Chris Marshall also set a record, breaking the old side-horse mark by a wide margin at district and junior. Tim Pearson literally vaulted to a new high of 8.4 in that event.

The team captains this year were seniors Jon Hanington, Ray Gregoire, and Chris Marshall. They were chosen for their dedication to the team and their leadership for the rest of the team. The gymnastics team will be losing a talented group of seniors to graduation this year but should continue to be a strong team in the future under the guidance of Coach John Turchi.

1 — Showing his strength on the parallel bars is senior Ray Gregoire, commonly known to team members as "Wa." 2 — A salute after a tough floor routine, from senior Jon Hanington. 3 — Pausing to catch his breath before continuing his high bar routine is Mark Cadwell. 4 — Senior Chris Marshall excels on the side-horse.

GIRLS GYMNASTICS

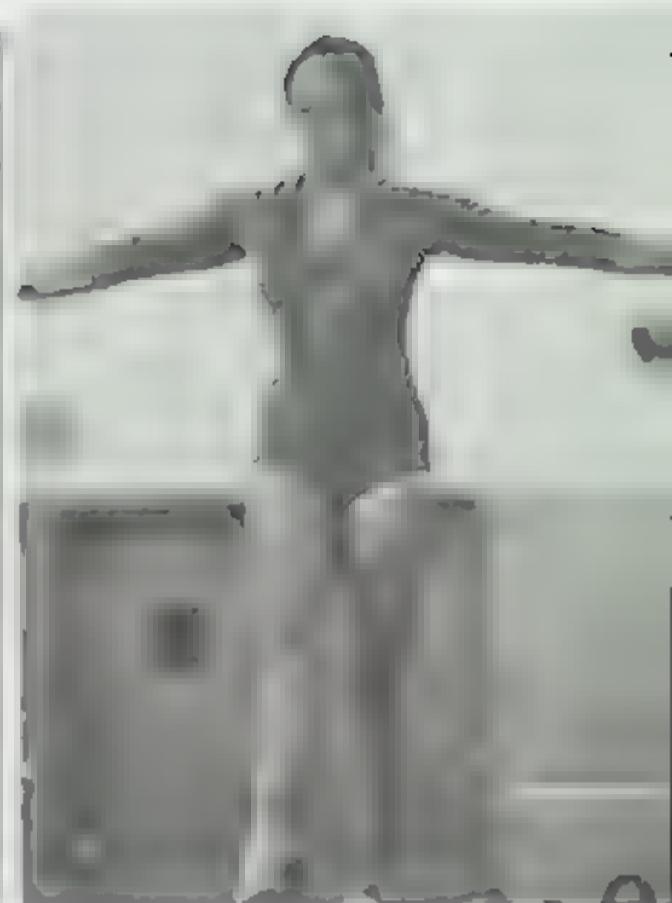

Young team reaches goals

The 1976 season for the girls gymnastics team was supervised by Coach Vicki Thomas. Although their season record was two wins and six losses, Coach Thomas felt that the team had done a good job in accomplishing their main goal, to participate in the District Meet, and achieve their overall best score. The team did really well considering the fact that our district is the most competitive. Most of the girls who went to the State Playoffs came from our district. Joan Cameron did well at District, placing twelfth.

The outstanding athletes for this season were junior Joan Cameron and freshman Brenda Baldwin. The team captains were Joan Cameron and Debbie Pearson. Coach Thomas said, "The team was a very young one, so the season was one of growing; and we did a lot with it."

1 — Brenda Baldwin concentrates on her routine. 2 — Lori Hurtado shows her poise and balancing ability. 3 — Teammates get extra advice from Coach Vicki Thomas. 4 — Joan Cameron proves that concentration is the key to a good performance.

CROSS COUNTRY

Undefeated team takes Wilco

The Pacer cross country team mopped up the rest of the league again this season. The boys and girls teams were undefeated on the dual meet level. The boys varsity took second place in the district meet and the girls won their district race as the team took the Wilco championship for the third straight year.

The Pacer varsity boys team just barely kept their team championship after placing second in the district meet to a hot Putnam team. They managed to retain the crown because of two dual meet wins over the Kingsmen earlier in the year. Dave Steffens won the individual title for the second year in a row by a wide margin over the rest of the field.

The varsity girls also were the Wilco champs this year. The girls have won the Wilco championship two years in a row, in a program just two years old. Jenny Bird took the individual title in an exciting race she won by just inches over Carolyn Digby of Clackamas.

The JV boys took the team title easily on that level. Tom Gates breezed to the individual win in the district race, followed by Billy Steffens, Ted Bergeron, Chris Bakken, Eric Bosse, Chris Anderson, and Joe Bruener.

On the JV girls level, the Pacers did not field a complete team at district. The four girls that did run did very well, however, finishing high in the individual placing.

1 - Could it be closer? Jenny Bird out-leans Carolyn Digby at the district meet finish. 2 - Exhausted, Tom Rothenberger hits the finish at the state meet. 3 - Dave Steffens easily outdistanced the field at district.

This year's freshman team also did very well and showed promise for the future. The frosh team had a fair dual meet record, but, due to some unfortunate injuries towards the end of the season, managed only a sixth place district meet finish.

After district, the varsity team went on to the state meet where they ran fairly well, but not up to the hopes of the team. The boys finished fourth at the state meet, tying with Milwaukie, and the girls finished sixth, improving one place over their finish last season. At state, Steffens placed fourth and Rothenberger fourteenth out of a field of one hundred forty. Jenny Bird placed ninth and Rhonda Weidman twenty-ninth in a field of one hundred nineteen.

In an A.A.U. National meet in Missouri, Bird, Rothenberger, and McGranahan (Steffens had a sprained ankle) all ran very well.

1 — Mr. David Bird gives his daughter, Jenny Bird, an encouraging pat on the back. 2 — Breezing across the finish line, Tom Rothenberger ends the grueling district race. 3 — Staggering down the chute, Doug Thompson looks dazed. 4 — Jenny Bird slips through the pack as she out-races her opponents. 5 — Lakeridge girls concentrate on the difficult course ahead. 6 — After a successful race, Julie Kern smiles. 7 — A jubilant Dave Steffens takes refuge from the cold after the state meet. 8 — Mike McGranahan sprints powerfully toward the finish. 9 — With four hundred yards left, Koen Bannister struggles up the hill. 10 — CROSS COUNTRY TEAM. BOYS SOCCER

Players kick off dynamic season

Soccer became an official school sport at Lakeridge for the first time this year. Coached by Terry Logan, they had an outstanding season in which they established themselves as league champions and as fourth place in state.

The Pacers finished their regular playing season undefeated with thirteen wins and one tie. Two of the wins were against cross-town rival Lake Oswego. Then it was off to the state playoffs where they beat Catlin Gabel in the quarter-finals. But alas, all good things must come to an end. The seemingly invincible squad finally was downed by Lincoln in an exciting overtime game. They lost a battle for third place to Beaverton and finished their extended season in fourth place.

The outstanding players for the year were halfback Pete Phillips, forward Toby Borst, halfback J.R. Burwell, and fullback Dave Marshall. Coach Logan said, "The Pacer soccer team will definitely go in the state playoffs next year."

1 - BOYS SOCCER TEAM BACK ROW Jason Ford, Robert Link, Jeff Zender, Dave Marshall, Kirk Peddicord, Andy Didzun, Wolfgang Swoboda, Scott Instenes, Clay Actor. GIRLS SOCCER Defeating L.O. highlights year

The Pacers, coached by Bob Raes and David Bird, had a very successful season during which they went to the state quarter-finals. The team finished their season with a win-loss record of 6-4, which included two wins over crosstown rival Lake Oswego. Co-captains Rachel Owings and Lois Pothetes agreed, "The high point of our season was beating Lake Oswego."

At the state playoffs, they were unfortunately downed by Lincoln in a close but well-played game.

Outstanding players for this year were Lisa Althoff, Laura Cleland, Heidi Hand, Rachel Owings, and Lois Pothetes. On the field, the team showed great playing ability and promising prospects for seasons to come.

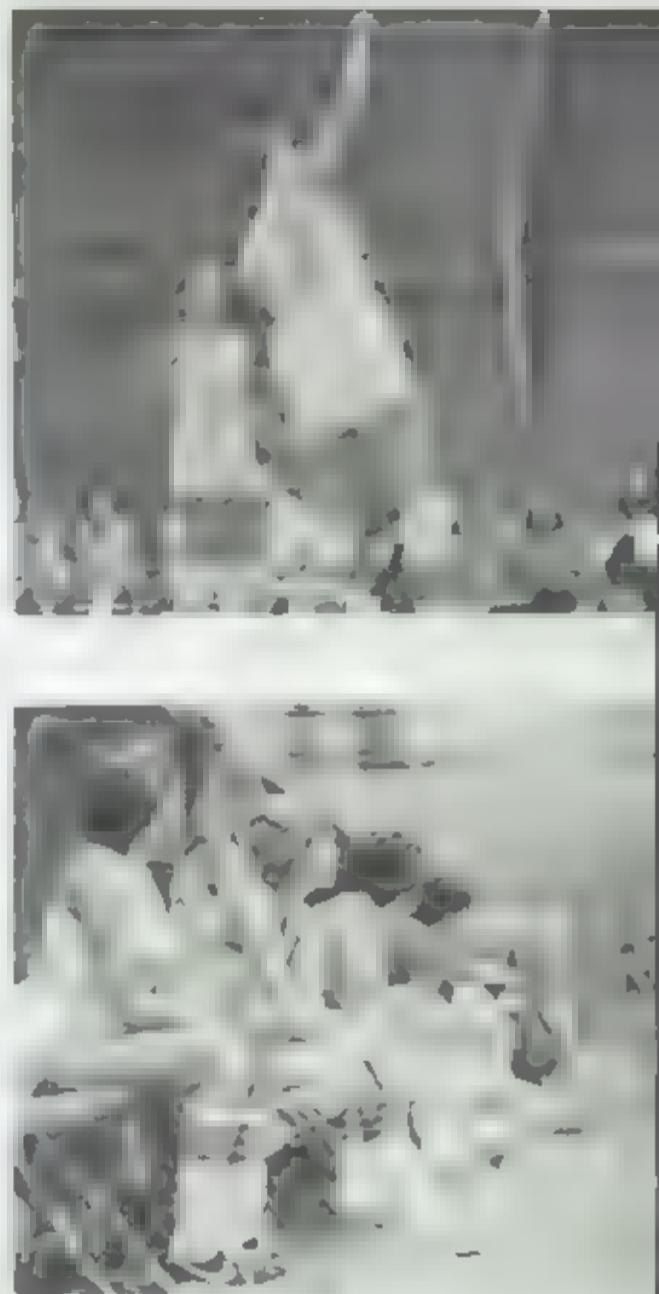

1 - Heidi Hand races Lake Oswego players for possession of the ball. 2 - The "thrill of victory" shows in this scene as Laura Cleland rides on her teammates' shoulders after the important victory over Lake Oswego. 3 - GIRLS SOCCER TEAM. BACK ROW: Terry Olson, Amy Bright, Georgianna Callis, Kirsten Rezac, Rachel Owings, Sue Stevens, Lisa Bryan, Julie Kirby. THIRD ROW: Heidi Haage, Lisa Althoff, Ann Carver, Michelle Myer, Lois Pothetes, Sandy Crenshaw, Joanne Bergeron, Dianne Trimbel. SECOND ROW: Stacy Guterman, Kris Shafer, Becky Memmott, Linda Curtis, Cindy Curtis, Nancy Gianotti, Andrea Kalnin, Leslie Cronn, Barb Rohen. FRONT ROW: Mr. Dave Bird, Ann Matthew, Laura Cleland, Heidi Hand, Kim Home, Debbie Tischler, Judi Barker, Wendy Kirkpatrick, Nancy Montgomery, Mr. Bob Raes.

GIRLS VOLLEYBALL

1st year team shows enthusiasm

The girls volleyball team was coached by Lew Grant. Because it was a rookie team, they won several games. Mr. Grant said, "It just isn't possible for a new team to be a winning team." Their big problem was in setting the ball. They had marvelous team togetherness, provided by seniors Sue McGee and Marilyn Leach. The highlight of the season was their match against Putnam in which they lost the first game, came back to win the second, but lost the third. Grant said he never expected them to win and was very happy with their performance in that game as well as in all of the other games. Grant foresees great things from these girls in the future: "There's a lot of potential they'll build on next year."

1 — Rachel Kirby shows good form as she hits the ball over the net. 2 — Sue McGee goes up for a spike as Jenny Schmitt looks on. 3 — Alice Park and Lisa Camp watch a game from the bench. 4 — GIRLS VOLLEYBALL. CHESS TEAM

Best season yet for young team

This year, under the direction of Mrs. Eert, the Lakeridge Chess team was officially included in the Wilco League. The team had begun practices in September and continued throughout the year. When they went into the Wilco District Meet in February, they were tied with Clackamas — five wins and five losses — but came out in sixth place.

The team consisted of five players: Board 1, Bob Seid; Board 2, Jim Gates; Board 3, Blaine Brinkley; Board 4, Bill Hitt; Board 5, Phil Jones. Jim Hitt and Bob Falla supported as alternates. Bill Hitt was the team captain.

Said Mrs. Eert, "This has been our best year and we have great hopes for 1977-1978. I would like to encourage other chess players to try out for the team."

VARSITY BASKETBALL

Quality team couldn't click

The 1977 Lakeridge team had a strange but interesting season. At times the Pacers were awesome both offensively and defensively. Throughout the season the squad was led by junior standout Bill Crabtree who scored well, finishing with a 17.5 point average per game.

Other starters included seniors Jeff Auxier, Jim Dorsey, Larry "Pumper" Neilson and Gregg Allen.

Although the season ended on a bad note with a record of 9-13, Coach Charlie Nipp had high praise for the team saying, "They never quit working" and "Our team had tremendous character."

Other members of the squad were seniors Jim Freeman, Brad Pihas, and Mike "Sky" Warner. Commendations were in order for senior Bob Louden who stepped in and did a super job when Bill Crabtree was injured. The underclassmen off the bench included Andy Himsworth, Ed Culp, and Pete Annesland.

1 - Jim Freeman, a crowd favorite, scores here with his famous jump shot against Gresham. 2 - Wiping out his opponent, Larry Neilson takes the ball down court. 3 - Coaches Gordy James and Jim Sather watch the game as Head Coach Charlie Nipp screams instructions to the players on the court amidst the intensity of the game. 4 - Starter Jimmy Dorsey scores from "downtown." 5 - Bill Crabtree, Lakeridge's three-year all-stater, shows his ability homing in on two points. 6 - Number 54, better known as G.A., breezes in for an easy two points. 7 - VARSITY BASKETBALL. STANDING: Jimmy Dorsey, Jim Freeman, Bob Louden, Mike Warner, Bill Crabtree, Andy Himsworth, Larry Neilson, Gregg Allen, Pete Annesland, Jeff Auxier, Ed Culp, and Brad Pihas. KNEELING: Scott Armfield (manager), Coaches Gordy James and Jim Sather and Head Coach Charlie Nipp.

SOPH/JV BASKETBALL

Junior players compete well

Relying on an excellent defense, the JV team held opponents to point totals as low as 20. Although weaknesses such as free throw shooting and injuries plagued the team throughout the season, offensive leaders Tom Rothenberger, Rod Barker and Jon Evans kept the team alive with good shooting and rebounding. Defensive leaders Rodger Nilsen and Wayne Lightburne held opponents with good hustle and determination. The JV'ers had a winning season with a record of 13-9.

The sophomores had an extremely good season with an 18-1 record. Starters Doug Eilertson, Todd Halvorson, Greg Brady, Doug Kiersey, and Rocky Scharer had their best game against rival Lake Oswego holding them to only 17 points. Greg Brady and Todd Halvorson led in rebounding with Doug Eilertson as leading scorer. Defensively, Doug Kiersey and Rocky Scharer played very well with Kiersey acting as playmaker for the team.

FROSH BASKETBALL Young teams gain experience

The white team had an impressive record of 16-3, led by two outstanding scorers in Bryan Jackson and John Leahy. Both Jackson and Leahy averaged well over 17 points a game. The playmaker was Dana Hovig who often dished the ball to supershooter Tim Cesca. Coach Murphy's squad held opponents to 36 points per game. The leading rebounder was Jackson with help coming from Cesca. The blue team coached by Keith Lokan had a record of 5-13 but this team gave a good effort at all times. The blue team lacked rebounding which hurt them during the course of the long season.

GIRLS BASKETBALL

Girls jump into Wilco play

This season saw the first Pacer girls basketball team entered in Wilco play. It was mostly a year of building fundamentals and gaining experience for the team as only one player, Ann McKinney, had played in league competition before.

Coach Tom Smythe commented, "As in any form of athletics it takes time and hard work to get a good program started." And with more time and hard work, girls basketball could really turn into a good program since this year's team consisted of only two seniors and 12 juniors, sophomores and freshmen who will have one year's experience behind them to help Lakeridge out in the future. Coach Smythe felt the girls showed great improvement toward the end of the season.

SKI TEAM

Lack of snow shortens season

Fifty-eight students turned out for the ski team in November. When February arrived, due to the lack of snow, and the fact that only a few actual practices had been held, 33 prospective racers had dropped out, leaving a team 25 strong.

Outstanding boys were John Gray, Bruce Rufner, Chris Schiffer, and Mitch Scroggin, whom Coach Jack Bramsman felt had grown a lot since the previous season. Dave Marshall, probably the most well-known racer on the team, began a successful season by winning the year's first race.

Due to various conflicts, the girls team was depleted to only six racers during the course of the season. Junior Terry Montague was the only girl who had been racing with the team her entire high school career. Becky Hefford and Ada Smith did quite well, in spite of lack of experience. Heather Copeland and Cathy Leovy finished off the team, supplying a solid base for the girls team in the future.

For the first time in the history of the Lakeridge ski team, the boys were Wilco League champions. At the state meet, out of 60 racers, Dave Marshall placed 12th and John Schiffer placed 15th.

DIVING/SWIMMING

Pacers plunge to victory

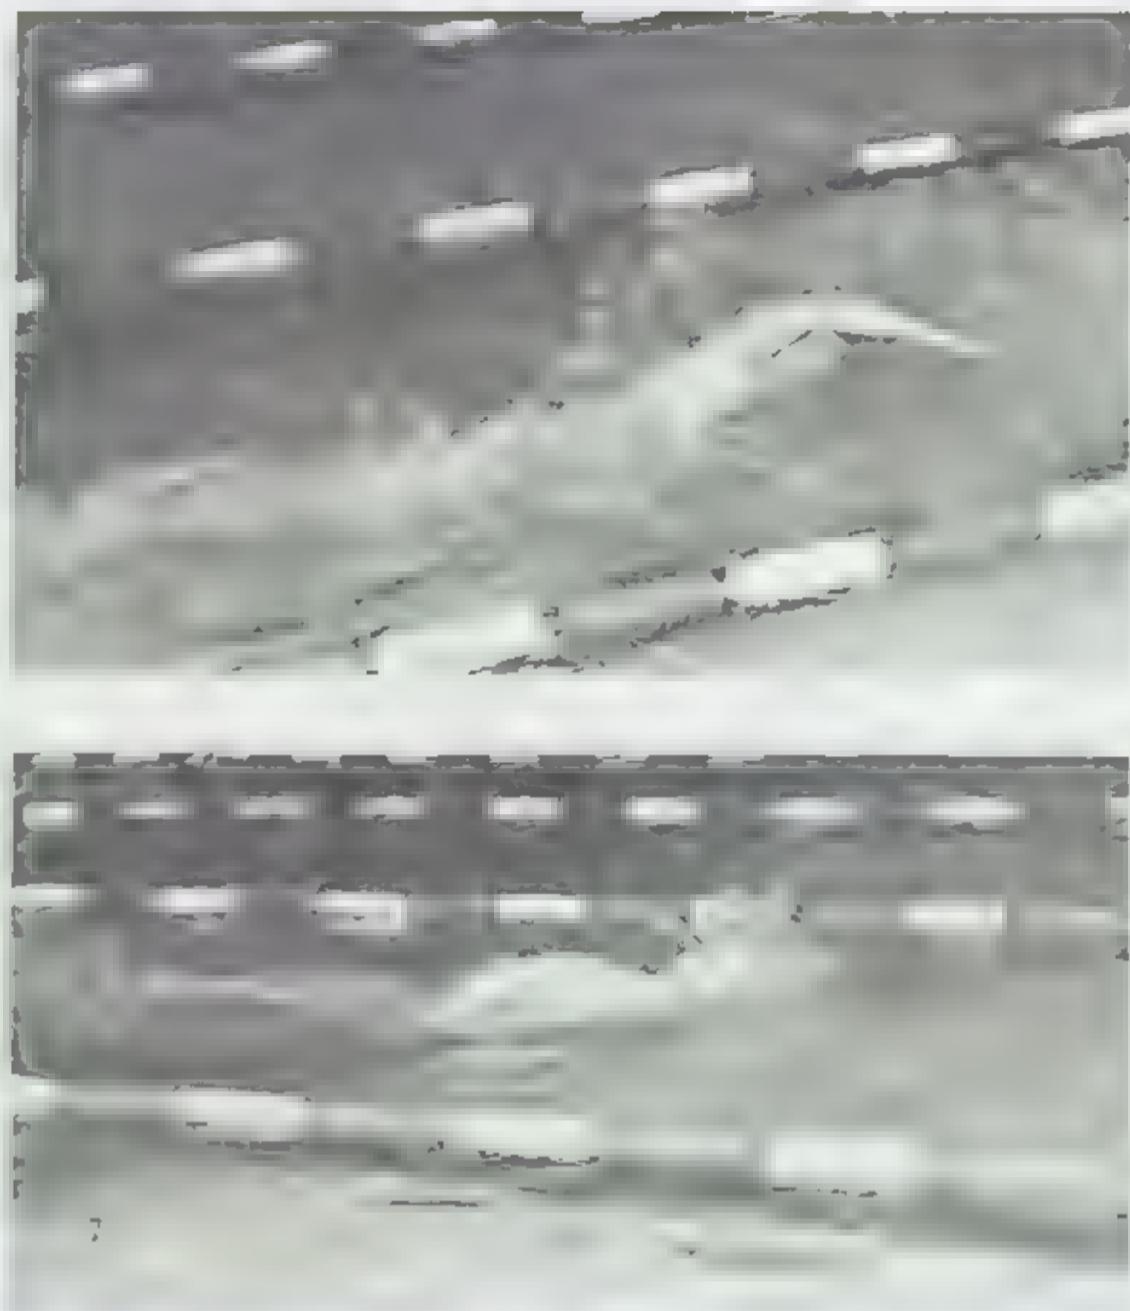

Considering the lack of experience on both the swimming and diving teams, this year's performance was outstanding, because both teams placed in both the District and State meets. The girls swim team, led by sophomore Lori Pittelkow and freshman Julie Ross, placed 2nd at the District Championship Meet. Having only three seniors, the team should return as an outstanding one, according to Coaches Jim Jamieson and Tom Davis. The boys team, led by Jim Rabe, Dave Sandin, Scott Clarke, and Scott Gustafson, showed great poise as individually Jim Rabe placed 3rd and 5th, swimming at State. Overall, the boys team captured 4th at District.

The Diving team, also very inexperienced, placed solidly at District with outstanding performances from Sharon DeHaas and Jon Hanington. The team was plagued by short workouts because of little pool space, but used the time they did have by scheduling dry-land workouts which included gymnastics exercises. Both coaches and teams are looking ahead with great optimism towards next year's season.

WRESTLERS

Grapplers hurt by injuries

Crucial injuries and the absence of many prospective wrestlers hindered the 1977 Pacer Wrestling program. Our scufflers dropped from six to thirty points in every dual meet because they didn't have wrestlers to fill every weight class. This deficit was largely responsible for their losing twenty dual meets while winning one.

But the Pacers boast some outstanding talent. Kirk Peddicord was high in sub-district standings but injured his shoulder in district competition. The captains, Don Davis, Curt Calonder, and Bob Paz also had many outstanding performances. The loss of David Griggs and Randy Martin to injuries hurt the Pacers greatly, but hopefules such as Carey Lee and Mike Van Allen gave the team a boost and offer a great deal of promise for the 1978 season.

1 - Mike Britsch entangles his opponent. 2 - Coach John Sanders looks on as a Lakeridge wrestler escapes a pin. 3 - Mike VanAllen sizes up his opponent. 4 - Senior Kirk Peddicord drives his opponent to the mat. 5 - Mike VanAllen uses muscle and leverage to take down his opponent. 6 - Mike Britsch furiously tries to escape a predicament. 7 - Bob Paz refuses to be pinned. 8 - WRESTLING TEAM BACK ROW: Jim Dawes, Stewart Simmons, Chris Bakken, Kirk Peddicord, Curt Nelsen, Dan Kocer, Mike Britsch. VARSITY BASEBALL

Great team misses State

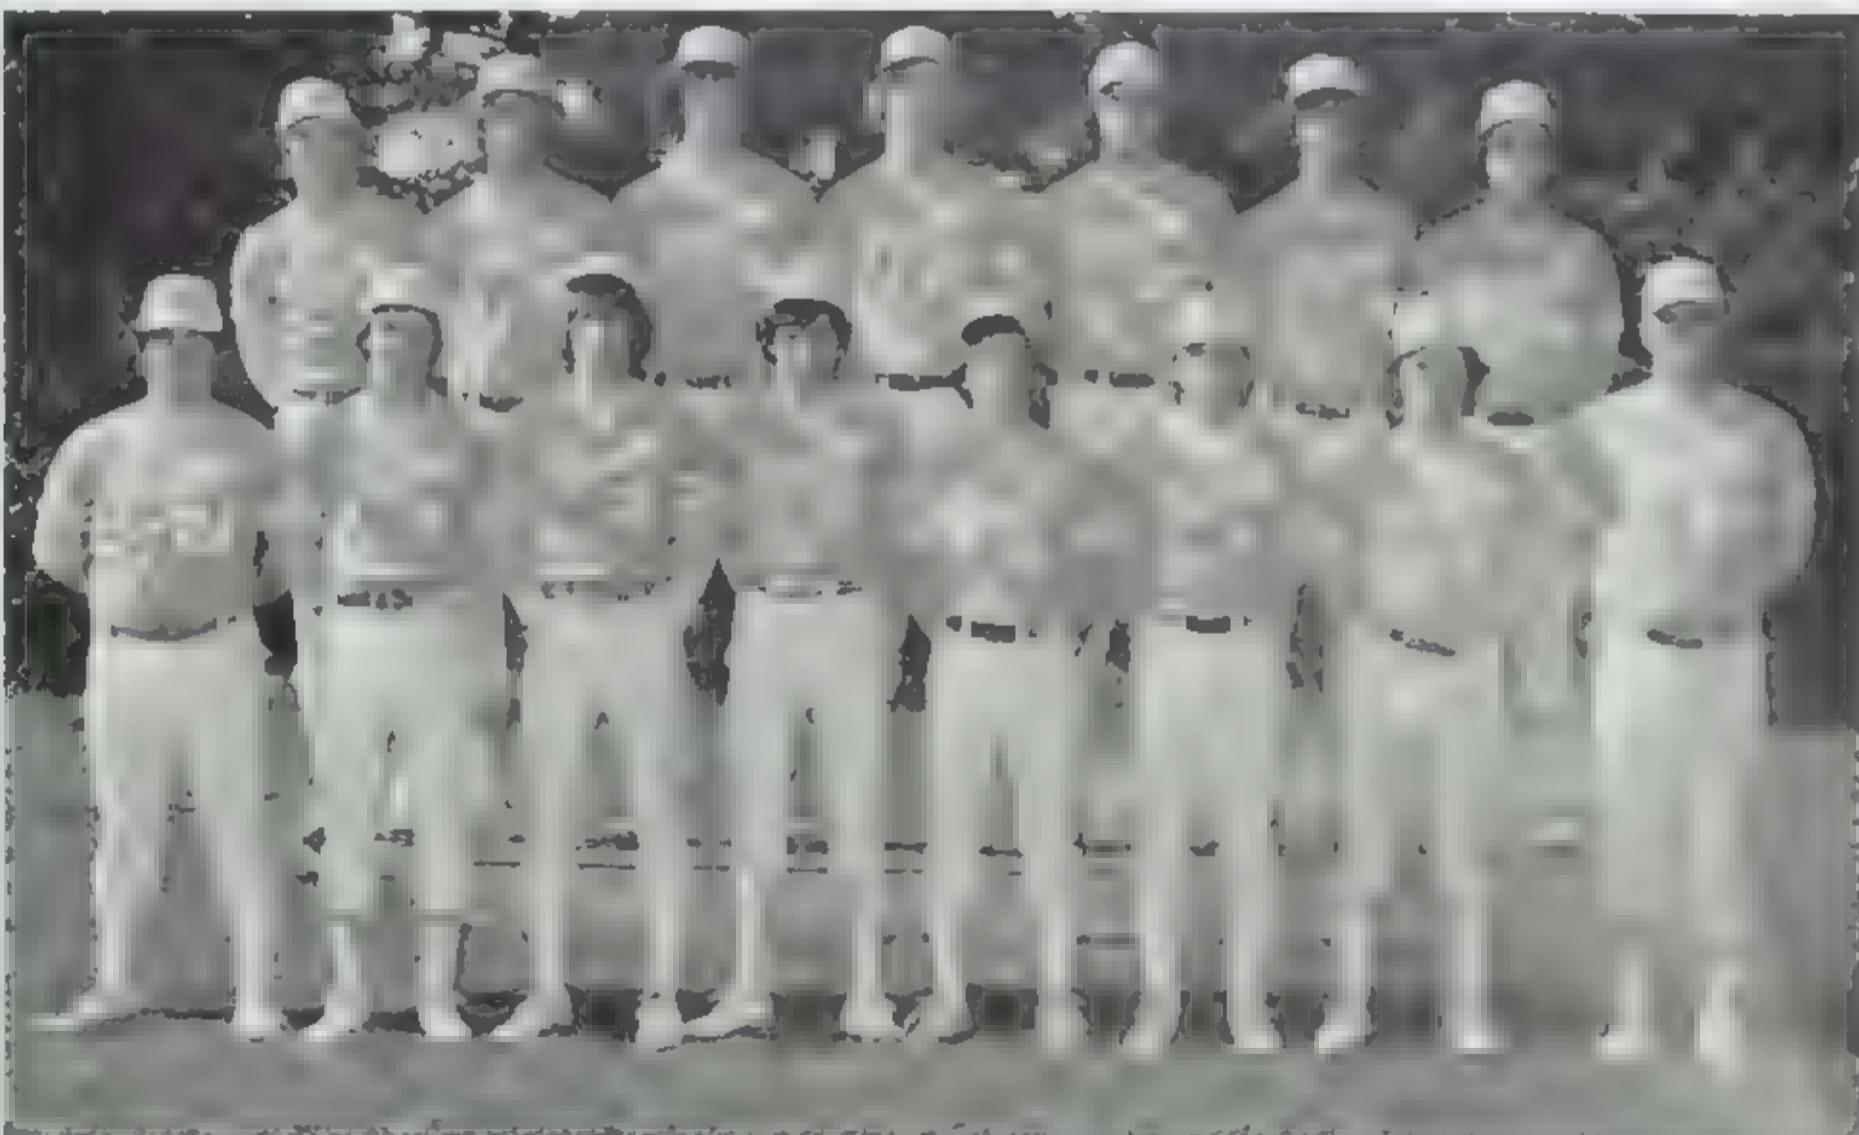

"Will we have a chance to go to state?" That is the question the 15 members of this year's varsity baseball team asked themselves after defeating Gresham. Unfortunately the reply was "no." The outcome of the Milwaukie-Oregon City game was to determine the Pacers' eligibility to go to state. To keep play-off hopes alive, Oregon City had to win. Then the news came that Milwaukie had won and there was no further chance of the team going to state.

Nevertheless, the team had an outstanding season. After starting out 1-4, the Pacers shook off the past and looked confidently to the future. They unified into a mass of one, a powerful machine, winning 12 out of the last 14 games. Ironically, the Pacers beat the Wilco Division champion Mustangs twice, yet the Mustangs went on to state quarterfinals. "Not only did we beat these people, we did it convincingly," said Coach Royce McDaniels.

Elected for the Wilco League All Stars team were Ken Rolfe and Dave Coghill for first team honors while Bill Crabtree received second team All Stars honors as an outfielder. Honorable Mention list included Jim Ashton, first base, Brad Pihas, second base; and Denny Hynes, third base.

1 - Brad Pihas shows tension of the game while standing "in the hole" before his turn at bat. 2 - Jimmy Dorsey flashes a smile after making a killing in the last inning. 3 - Mike Lockwood coasts into home plate to score the Pacers to an easy victory. 4 - Showing the Pacer format, Jim Dorsey outplays the opposition. 5 VARSITY BASEBALL. JV BASEBALL

Ballplayers have good season

The junior varsity baseball team posted a 17 win and 6 loss record. The team's individual talent stood out much more than their record. At one point they boasted a nine game winning streak which established a new record. Junior Ed Culp also set a record for number of base hits in a single season.

John Stirek and Marc Caplan helped maintain the team's morale and enthusiasm throughout the season, which was invaluable to Coach Gordy James.

1 - Dave Weislogel is nearly successful in tagging a runner out. 2 - After batting the ball, John Stirek prepares to drop the bat and run to first base. 3 - JV BASEBALL. FRESHMAN BASEBALL

Frosh players achieve goals

The basic goal of the Lakeridge freshman baseball program was to give every player some game experience while winning as many games as possible. By this measure of success, the 1977 program accomplished a great deal. While playing 14 and 15 kids per game, they recorded a 5-9 record.

Dale Shirts and Steve Dawson were instrumental team leaders. John Lofland recorded a .321 batting average while Bruce Kuhnert and David Kiersey led the defensive effort.

Coach Jack Bramsman stated that while the team was highly successful, the win-loss record would have been better if they had not made a few key errors in close game situations.

Girls lob way to success

The Girls Varsity Tennis team achieved one of the most successful records ever at Lakeridge. Starting off strong they finished the season with only three losses. Kelly Hill, first singles, played well all season against tough competition and made a fine showing at district. A seemingly impossible record, 14 wins and 2 losses, was earned by both Betsy Stark and Kirstin Munson, and Carolyn Schlauch and Cindy Brusie in doubles competition. Teri Jensen, a newcomer to Lakeridge, played well at third singles.

The boys team made a gallant effort during the season's matches. The team unfortunately was not as successful as they had hoped to be at district. Fortunately, the majority of the teammates are young and can return for next season.

GOLF

Swingers place first in league

The Pacer golf team had a very successful year, earning the Wilco League Championship trophy and taking second place in the state championships.

The varsity team had a total win-loss record of 18-3 and a league record of 11-1. Coach John Fossatti attributed the team's success to having eight consistently fine golfers, the top five of which had almost identical averages in 30-35 rounds of competition. The team won four out of six tournaments in which they played, which was quite an improvement after having won only one tournament last year.

The main highlights were not the dual meets but the outside tournaments. At state, Mike Warner had the fourth best score (151) and was named to the all-state team. Mark Warner was District Medalist with a score of 69. Steve Schmitt and Mike Larson made the all-tournament team at the Upstate Tournament with a score of 152.

The JV's had an undefeated season with 18 wins.

Coach Jim Ponti felt the girls had their most successful golf season ever in terms of team and individual effort.

The team consisted of nine members — six of which, including the top three players — were freshmen. They had a league play record of 5 wins-3 losses and a total season win-loss record of 7-4. Linda McEwen made second team for Wilco League.

TRACK

Great teams field wins

The 1977 Pacer track team enjoyed another highly successful season. Both the boys and girls teams sent representatives to the state meet that placed very well. Coaches Keith Hurdstrom and Mike Gremillion were "very pleased" with this year's teams. According to Coach Hurdstrom, "I felt more comfortable with this team than with any other team I have ever coached." He emphasized the relaxed but determined attitude of the Pacer team this year. The boys finished a season with a five win six loss record, and the girls with a six win-one loss record. The boys' only losses were to league leader Putnam and runner-up Milwaukie. The boys finished third in dual-meet standings. The girls only losses were to league leader Centennial and runner-up Gresham. They finished third in dual-meet standings. At the district meet the boys finished in sixth place; the girls finished fifth.

At the district meet the Pacers had many outstanding runners. Tom Rothenberger placed second and Tom Gates third in the mile run. Sandy Sullivan placed third and Kathy Goolsby fourth in the girls mile run. Rob Smith placed sixth and Rhonda Weidman second in the quarter-mile run. Koen Bannister placed third and Pete Nelson sixth in the half-mile run. David Steffens won the two mile run handily and the relay team of Tom Rothenberger, Koen Bannister, Mike McGranahan, and Rob Smith took fifth place. Kathy Bauman took fifth place in the 110-yard high hurdles. Overall, the Pacers, without the placing of Jenny Bird, who was out with mono, did very well at the district meet.

At the state meet the Pacers placed well, also. Senior distance star Dave Steffens took third in the two-mile and junior Rhonda Weidman took seventh in the quarter-mile for girls. Tom Rothenberger took seventh and Tom Gates ninth at the state meet in the mile run. Mike McKenzie also went to state in the long jump, but he did not make the finals.

A disappointment for the girls this year is the loss of head coach Mike Gremillion. Mr. Gremillion is going into private business and won't be coaching the girls team next year. "It was a good experience for me as a coach and teacher," he said. He will certainly be hard to replace as a coach. An addition to this year's coaching staff was Herm Mize. Mize coached the pole vaulters and did an excellent job. He led four vaulters to district this year.

1 — Chris Wood paces a quick lap of the two mile. 2 — Grimacing Tom Rothenberger concentrates on bringing the baton home. 3 — Dan Young, Doug Thompson and Bill Steffens pace lap on the first turn. 4 — Kathy Bauman, Anne Gianotti, and Debbie Brusie concentrate on getting over their hurdles. 5 — Dave Steffens, superstar, takes off on a fast two-mile pace. 6 — Mark Link, Mark Miller, and Paul Hovey explode out of the blocks against Lake Oswego. 7 — Virginia Richards and Michelle McMoran congratulate teammate Patti Ricker after a win. 8 — Rob Smith brings the baton in for a mile-relay victory against Centennial

CLASS LIFE

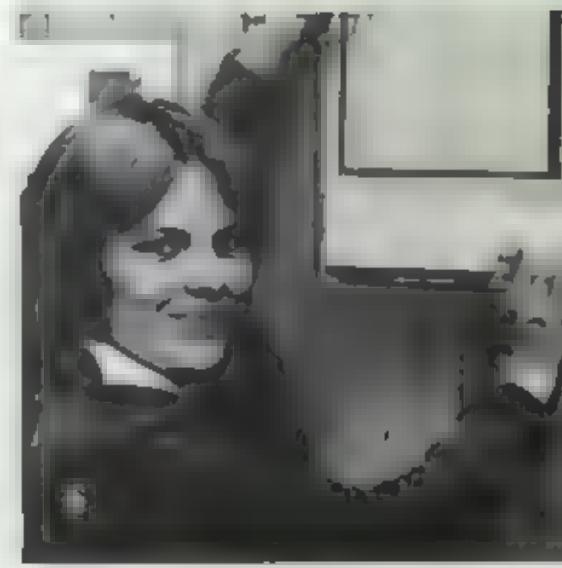

ART

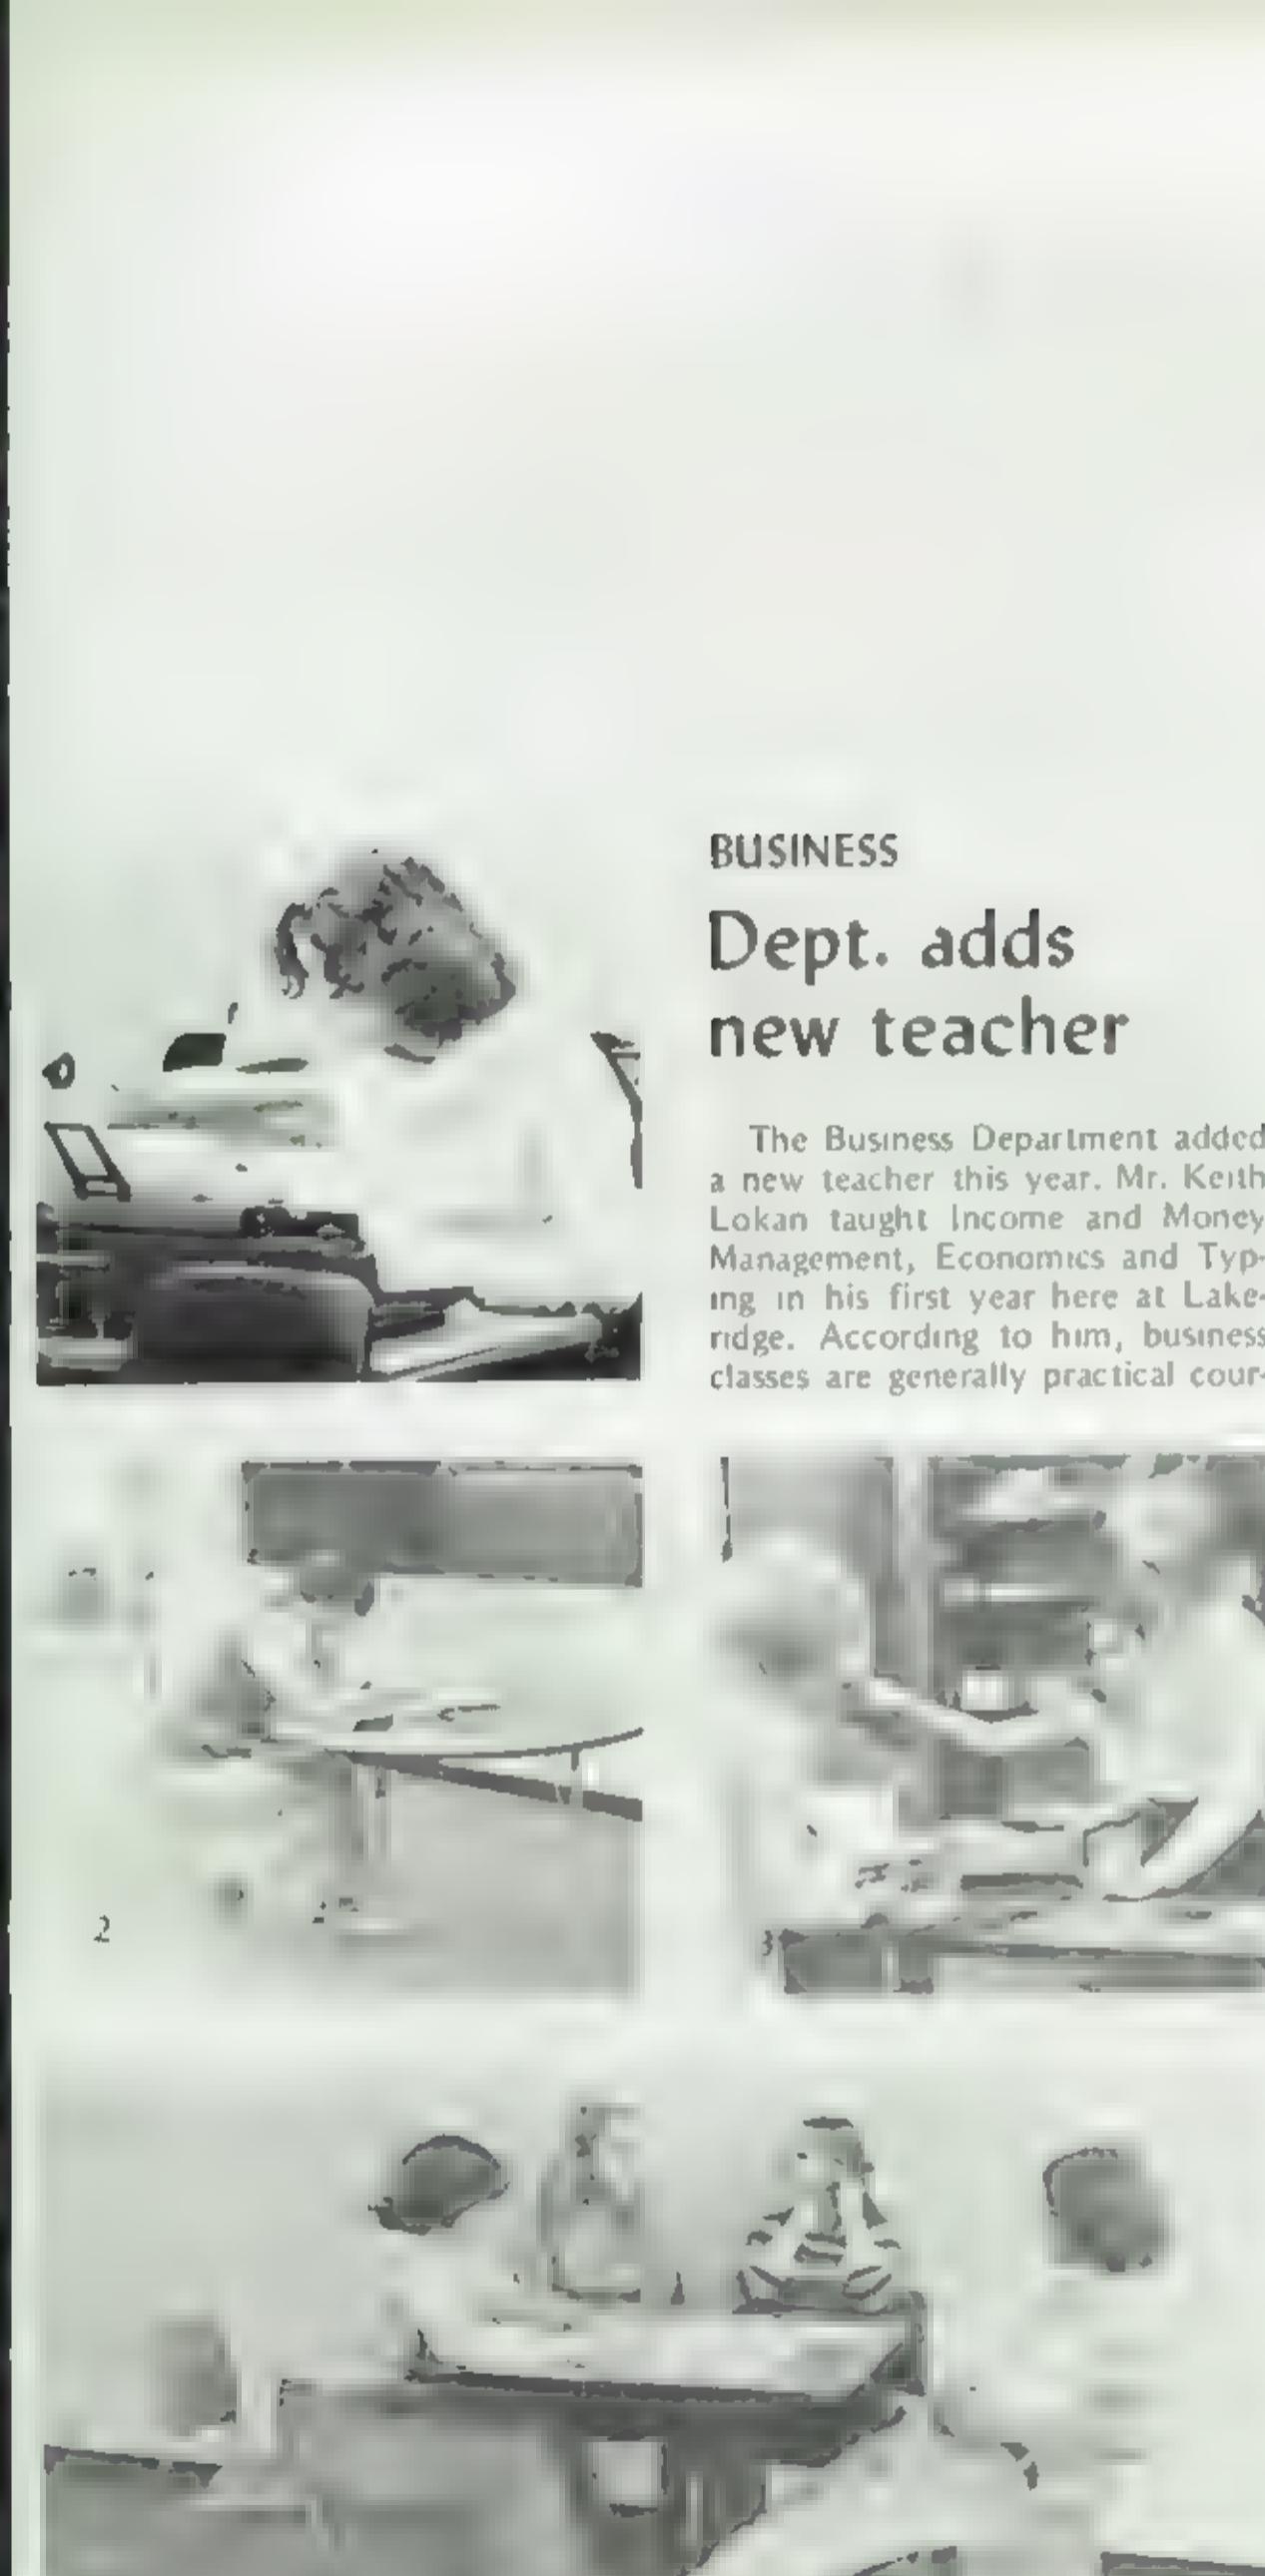

Roadster brings Commons color

1 - Terry Montague combines art and English by sculpting characters from "The Scarlet Letter." 2 - Ceramics student Jan Stanton is capable of turning out fine pieces of pottery like this urn and cups. 3 - Fine jeweler Rick Creek has work displayed. 4 - Traci Walton and Paula Viteznik pose for fellow artists. 5 - Rick Creek casts beautiful silver pieces. 6 - Marie Cyphers organizes calligraphy

This year Lakeridge had its own Artist-in-residence, Lanny Little, who has painted impressive murals at the state capital and at several Portland area schools. With the help of the art staff and selected art students the west wall in the Commons has a mural painted on it. The paint ing covers an 18' by 30' wall and is painted in a photorealistic manner. The students that were involved in this project were Maurice Mettler, Becky Schultz, Terry Montague, Brent Markee, Debbie Tischler, Jana Wilson, Jeff Ehlers, Rich Creek, Mary Favero, and Dianne Slaten. Art teacher Jim Ponti was the administrative representative. The subject, a 1929 Roadster, was developed by several art and photography students and after heated debate was finally approved by the school board.

BUSINESS

Dept. adds new teacher

The Business Department added a new teacher this year. Mr. Keith Lokan taught Income and Money Management, Economics and Typing in his first year here at Lake-ridge. According to him, business classes are generally practical courses, which is one reason why they are so popular and enrollment is continuing to go up. Another reason for the higher enrollment is the two-year old Income and Money Management requirement for sophomores.

Besides rookie Mr. Lokan, teachers in the Business Department included Department Head Charlie Nipp, Mr. Jerry Grossen, Mr. Mike Gremillion, Mrs. Evelyn Matthews, and Mr. Chuck Zimmerman. Under their supervision the Business Department continues to be a highly successful area of study at Lake-ridge.

1 — Lisa Wankers studies her typing lesson during class. 2 — Kyle Sanders works hard at accounting in the Math Resource Center. 3 — Laura Cleland waits to make a purchase from Marie Nygard and Julie Woodworth at the Student Store. 4 — Janice Smith, Karylann Hunting, Jenny Williams, and Mark Grabow sell senior shirts for Marketing class.

CADET TEACHING

CAREER ED

Programs expand to aid students

Ms. Rosemary Raymore took over the Cadet Teaching program this year, guiding and counseling the 60 students who signed up to travel to Waluga and local grade schools to learn important aspects of teaching first hand.

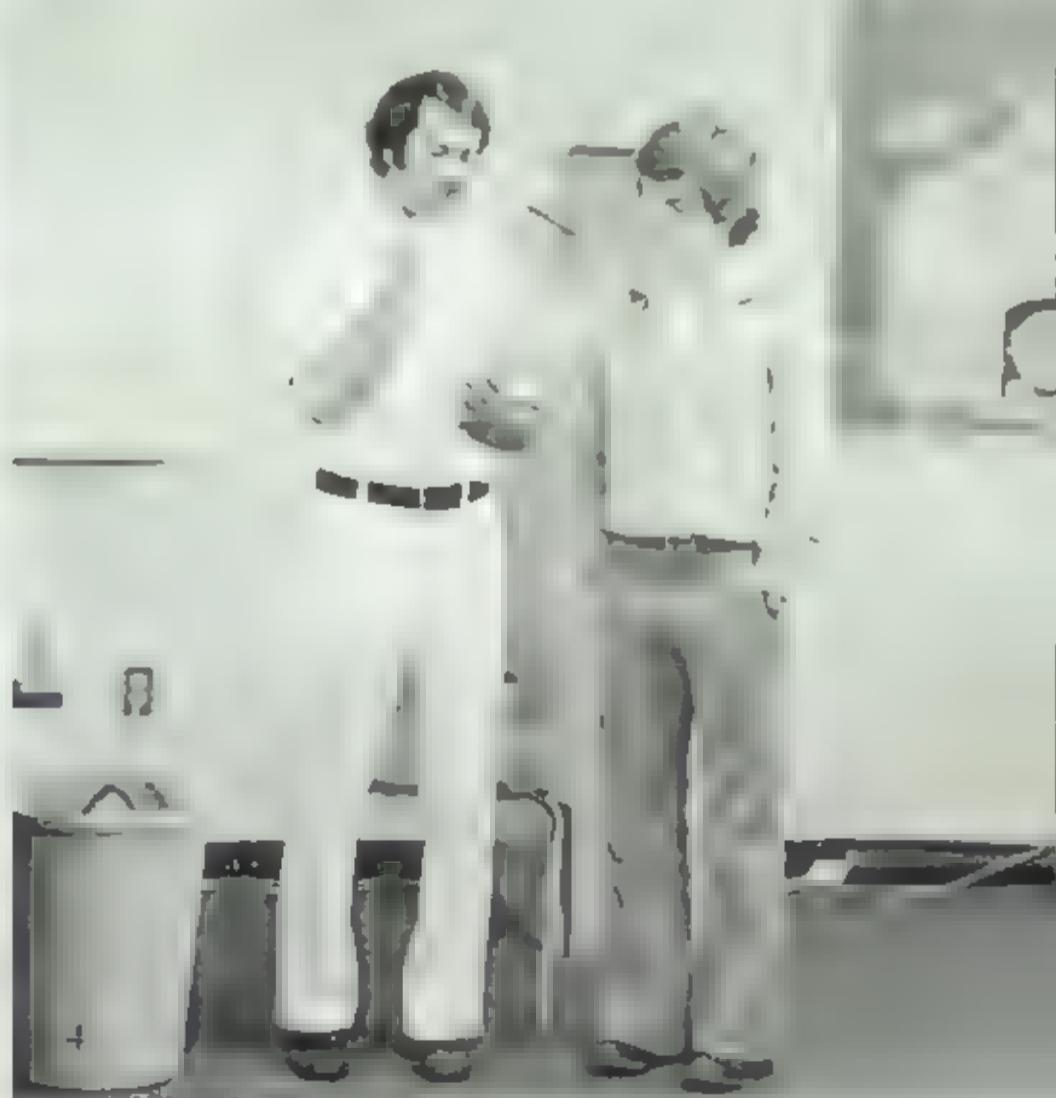

Controls on the program were increased this year. The grading system was changed from a pass-fail method to the standard graded curve. This helped to pinpoint many current as well as potential problems.

Career Education is not an easy program to work in. Students must have a record of good work habits as well as an honest desire to learn about careers. The class must be taken for an entire semester or no credit can be gained. It is possible to earn four credits during the school year in this program; however, since this is very difficult most students stick to the standard program: earning two credits in one year.

About 160 students participated in the work experience program under the direction of Mr. Gordon James. They received advice concerning their jobs as well as gaining knowledge that is sure to prove very important in their later lives and careers.

1 - Checking on possible job opportunities, Jodee Smith examines the bulletin board in the Career Center. 2 - Koen Bannister takes a short break from the important duties in his cadet-teaching class. 3 - Members of an economics class listen intently as Mr. Bob Raes and Mr. Gordon James explain procedures for taking tests which determine career goals. 4 - Brad Pihas watches closely as Mr. Gordy James explains a work experience evaluation.

1 - Prestigious Thespian John Barber presents the crowned dunce of the drama class a case of candy in honor of the choir. 2 - Clark Swinford smiles for the camera between improvs during Rehearsal and Performance. 3 - Bob McGranahan and Terry Ward work diligently to meet the demands of their acting class; this work became the 1977 May Week agenda.

DRAMA

Boards attract large numbers

Inspired by a new director, Mr. Richard Barnes, and the enthusiasm of some talented actors, the drama department was filled this year in every course offering.

The classes offered included On Stage, Rehearsal and Performance, Stage Craft, Advanced Acting, Theater and Make-up, and Film and TV. Each of these classes was quite popular throughout the year.

Rehearsal and Performance and Advanced Acting were largely responsible for the plays produced. "Life of the Party" was the major play put on by the fall classes. The year's musical, "Guys and Dolls," was supported heavily by these classes, both on stage and back stage, although auditions were opened up to the general student body.

Many of the students enrolled in such acting or dramatic classes took the opportunity given them to compete in both local and state competition in the field of drama.

ENGLISH

New drama man joins department

1 – Bob McGranahan lounges during Mrs. Letty Owings' English class. 2 – The English Department held a seminar on essay writing directed by a professor from Reed College. 3 – Scott Caplan's expression reflects the students' view of Mr. McCormick's humor. 4 – Cindy Brusie, Debbie King, and Suzanne Curtis use Christmas dress-up day as an excuse to wear their pajamas to class.

Two new faces were seen around the English Department this year. Mr. Richard Barnes, hailing from the East Coast, arrived in Lake Oswego with his wife and three small sons to assume the position of drama coach as well as junior English teacher. Mr. Hiroshi Ishizuka, a visiting educator from Japan, was a familiar figure before Christmas as he observed the English classes at Lakeridge. Hiroshi, as students and staff soon fondly called him, has taught English as a second language for over twenty years.

Notable events for the classes included Granny Thoreau's (Jeff Cooney) third Christmas visit with his owl, and a visit from Ashland's Shakespearean actors, and some less than memorable skits produced to "interpret" literary works studied.

Also new to the area was a wall painting done by Julie Evans and Kathy Beazley.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE

Food, fun, frolic teach students

The 76-77 year saw great things in the Foreign Language Department.

Cultural experiences took the form of various regional foods baked, fried, whipped and popped by the students themselves.

Field trips highlighted the year with Mark Sotta entertaining the French Department for a totally French dinner, the Spanish students going to "Poor Shoes" and Zapata's for dinner, and the mellow fourth year German class taking in lunch at the Matterhorn.

French students also attended two French films (with subtitles), "Pocket Change" at PSU and "Red and Black" at CCC.

The student teachers were Mrs. George (French), Mrs. Ellis (Spanish), and Mr. Greathouse (German). Russian, French and Yugoslavian were also spoken by Mr. Greathouse, adding to the international flavor of his classes.

The Spanish class had its usual quota of singing and dancing, the French its exquisite cooking and savoring, and the German its "aching" and "schnell-ing."

Overall, most of the foreign language students might agree with Pat Long's statement, "Well, it has been a great year, but I couldn't quite get what they were talking about. It was like they were speaking a different language."

1 — Displaying her impartiality, Janice Smith promotes international accord. 2 — Browsing through the department's literature, Maurice Mettler's interest is captured by a German magazine. 3 — Lexie Dobbins is tested on translating Spanish and English

Class numbers increase rapidly

The Home Economics Department, under the guidance of teachers Joanne Healea, Suzanne Hayes, and Patti Reilly, continued to grow rapidly in all areas. Although all Home Ec. courses are electives none are required — one out of three Lakeridge students have taken one or more of the classes offered.

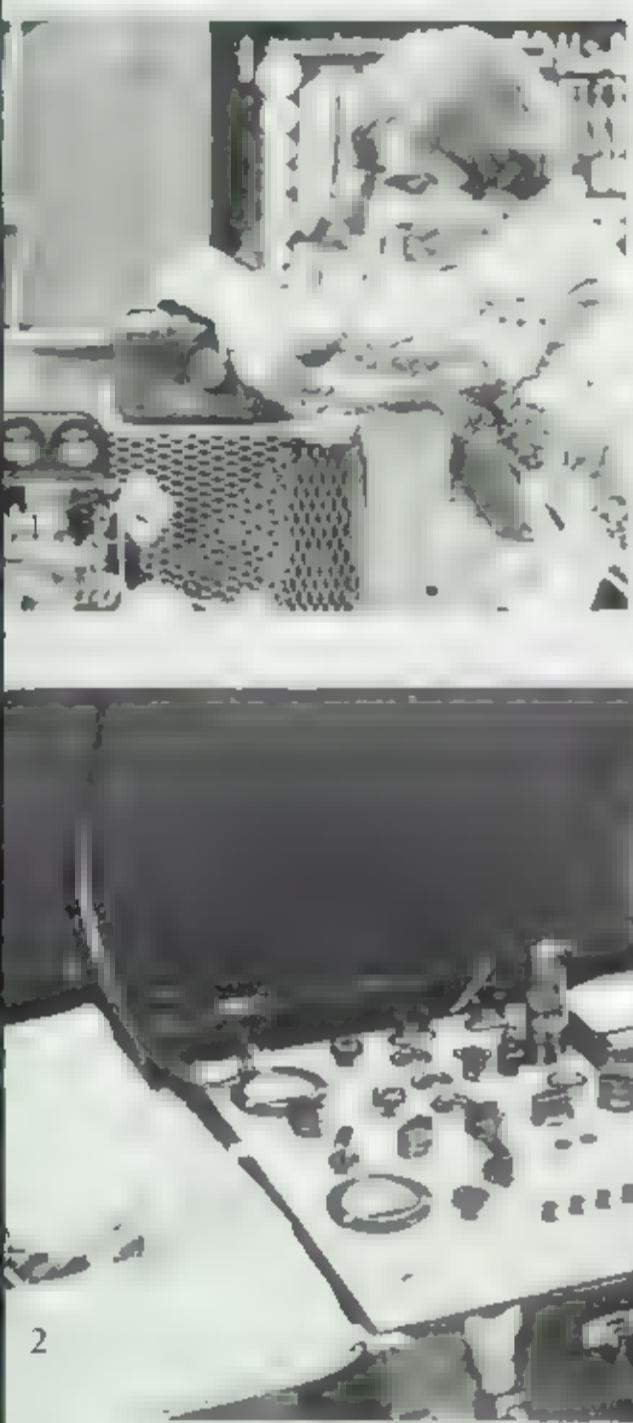

There were four levels of cooking classes, the highest being Creative Foreign Cooking, which involved cooking foods from other countries and visiting restaurants that feature foreign food. The next level down was Advanced Creative Cooking, then Creative Cooking II, and finally, at the bottom level, Bachelor or Chef and Creative Cooking I.

The Home Ec. classes are undoubtedly some of the most practical courses at Lakeridge. The department has helped Dave Steffens and the rest of the cross country team by selling baked goods to help pay for the trip to the National Cross Country Meet. The Child Development Class studies younger children in a pre-school situation and is an excellent preparation for later life. A highlight this year was a fireman visiting the class and showing the kids his fire engine. According to Mrs. Reilly, "Many of the kids in Home Ec. classes get jobs sewing and cooking in restaurants." You can't get much more practical than that.

1 — Janet Meloy irons a new sewing project. 2 — Marilyn Leach and Sue McGee put finishing touches on a new vest. 3 — Mrs. Reilly and Laurie Myers align patterns on material for sewing class. 4 — Mrs. Hayes prepares the lesson for her next cooking class

INDUSTRIAL ARTS Useful skills learned by all

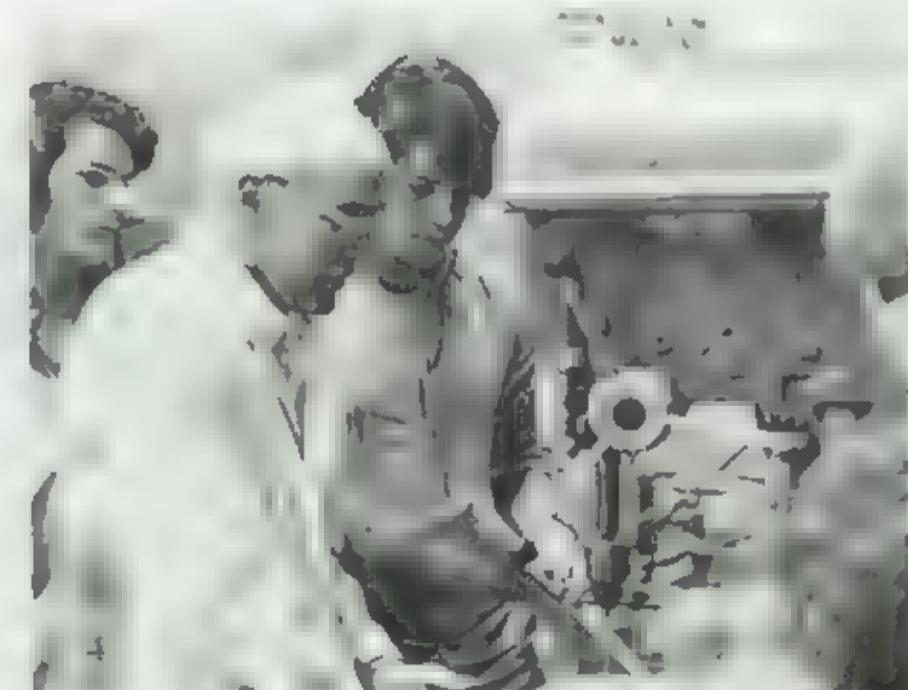

The Industrial Arts department offered its usual fine curriculum this year giving students a chance to develop saleable skills or to complete projects. Department Head Lew Grant spoke with great enthusiasm in making the point that the skills offered in Industrial Arts are good to have whether using the skills to get a job or just working around the house. He also encouraged girls to take any of the department programs that they would be interested in, since they can do just as well as the guys

If a student is interested in one of the segments of the department (Auto, Drafting, Electronics, Metal or Wood) just for the development of skills or to work on a project but not necessarily to get a job, then he would take a class such as Wood Crafts, Metals, Electronics I, Automotive Fundamentals or Drafting. If he is interested in preparing for a job then he would take courses such as Introduction to Wood Technology, Metal Technology or Mechanical Drawing

The main purpose of the Industrial Arts department is to offer students a chance to develop skills in areas of interest, whether it be to get a job or just for hobby or repair purposes

1 — Dave Elardo works on an engine in his Auto Shop class. 2 — Kurt Rohde demonstrates the use of the tube tester in Electronics. 3 — Mark Balfour works diligently in Woodshop. 4 — Lew Grant demonstrates the application of certain woodshop skills

LIBRARY

Books beckon bookworms

Students made good use of the new materials and equipment added to the library this year. Magazine "aficionados" found a wide variety of periodicals to choose from, as the library now subscribes to over 200 different titles. "The addition of 1,000 new paperback books to the collection proved to be very popular with both students and teachers," commented librarian Dodds.

The library was also fortunate in being able to add new A-V equipment for students to use in small groups or individually. The new purchases included cassette player-recorders, sound-filmstrip viewers, a sound-slide viewer, an 8mm film loop projector and viewer and a record player

Lakeridge students are indeed lucky to have such an excellent library available to them. And if Pacers couldn't find what they were looking for, librarians Kelly Graham and Rae Dodds were glad to help. Not only would they locate needed materials, they would also borrow materials on interlibrary loan.

Located off the library, the Learning Skills Center offered opportunities for students to work on a variety of language skills, from basic to college-bound speed and study skills. It also provided a quiet, comfortable spot to read for fun and relaxation.

1 — One of Librarian Kelly Graham's tasks is making book orders. 2 — Laura Scott and Tim Borst find a quiet corner for reading. 3 — Scott McLeod, Brian Castonguay, and Ed Sala study together. 4 — Senior Debbie Luckhaupt ponders what to say next in her report.

MATH

Bowers, Boys join fine staff

Getting ready for next year, the Math Department was busy selecting new texts for next year's courses. Mr. Chuck Geldaker, head of the department, was very pleased with the large turnout of students enrolled in math.

National Math Exam winner Greg Vermillion, placed second with the Lakeridge team, which also placed second.

New teacher Chuck Sowers and returnee Ron Boys continued with the quality teaching found in the department.

The Math Center, always a popular area in the school, may see changes in next year's courses, but will also continue many now offered.

1 - Jeff Becker and LuAnn Grubling study for an upcoming test. 2 - Donald Matterns dorf gets assistance from mathematics aide Barbara Ludders. 3 - The calculator proves helpful to a hard-working student. 4 - Bill Hitt and Phil Brown work with the computer.

Music program marches along

The year was a good one for the Band. Mr. Rick Clark, band director, felt that the groups "came a long way musically since the beginning of the year." The Concert Band performed as the Marching Band during football season, with Shannon Yagi leading them as drum major. They also participated in the Wilco League Festival and the many concerts that were presented by the school

The Stage Band performed as the Pep Band in all of the pep assemblies. As Stage Band they went to two band festivals and also participated in school concerts. Outstanding musicians from Stage Band were David DeLong, Mark DeLong, Jason Ford, Jim Hensen, Rocky Scharer, Mike Teahan, and Shannon Yagi, who went to state as trumpet soloist.

CHOIR

All groups enjoy impressive year

This year, the choral department welcomed a new group called the Stage Choir — a group much like the Company but composed of freshmen and sophomores. Although they were rookies, they did an excellent job throughout the year.

The highlight of the year for the Concert Choir and the Company was a trip to Victoria, British Columbia, in May. This was the first trip out of the United States that any Lakeridge choral group had ever made.

Another fun thing that the department participated in was a concert with the choral groups from Lake Oswego High School in March. The combined efforts of over 250 voices created a great sound when they performed the rock cantata "The Creation."

The Pacer Choir did well throughout the year and showed promise for the future. All in all, the groups did a fantastic job singing and dancing this year.

1 — Company performs at the Lake Oswego United Methodist Church. 2 — Mr. Steve Ticeen directs the Concert Choir in preparation for their concert with Lake Oswego High School. 3 — At the Christmas Concert, Company performs a popular ballad. 4 — The combined efforts of the Concert Choir, Pacer Choir, and Director Steve Ticeen made a very enjoyable choral year.

PHOTOGRAPHY

Darkroom draws devotees

Many students enrolled in photography classes because of the excellent darkroom, equipment, and teaching facilities here at Lakeridge

In Photography I, students are given a good background in making, mounting, and displaying black and white photographs. Once the student had this basic background, he could go on to more advanced techniques as well as color prints

1 — Accomplished photographer Anthony Ledbetter captures reflective look of Burnside inhabitant. 2 — Checking the dryer is Steve Reinschmidt. 3 — John Ferdig mixes chemicals preparatory to setting up the darkroom

HEALTH/P.E.

Games, classes involve kids

This year there were no major changes in the fine physical education department. For freshmen and sophomores, the major emphasis was on activities that would aid in the development of the student as well as the development of graceful and rhythmic movement and acceptable social attitudes and standards. For juniors and seniors, a number of elective activities were offered.

Freshmen were required to take freshman health. Juniors and seniors had a number of electives from which they had to choose three. Some dealt with health and marriage in different aspects.

SCIENCE

Physics pupils discover $E=MC^2$

Lakeridge science courses are centered on the lab and Lakeridge has excellent lab facilities. Department head Keith McGraw and the staff of science teachers emphasized background on the world energy situation and our conversion to the metric system. Basically, the courses experiment with, test, and verify nature's laws. The high caliber of the Science Department is largely responsible for the high majority of Lakeridge students enrolled in college prep science classes.

1 — Mr. Ed Markuson assists students in his lab. 2 — BSCS students Debbie Shick, Ann Buckley, and Cindy Curtis perform frog dissection. 3 — Experiment absorbs chem lab student. 4 — Mr. Jim Sather lectures to a chemistry class. 5 — David Grigg examines transparency

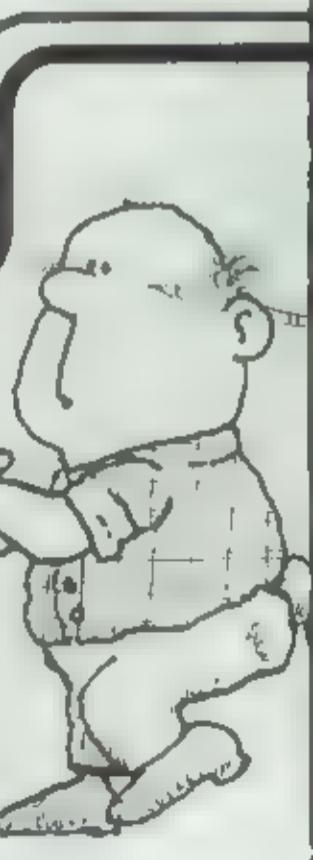

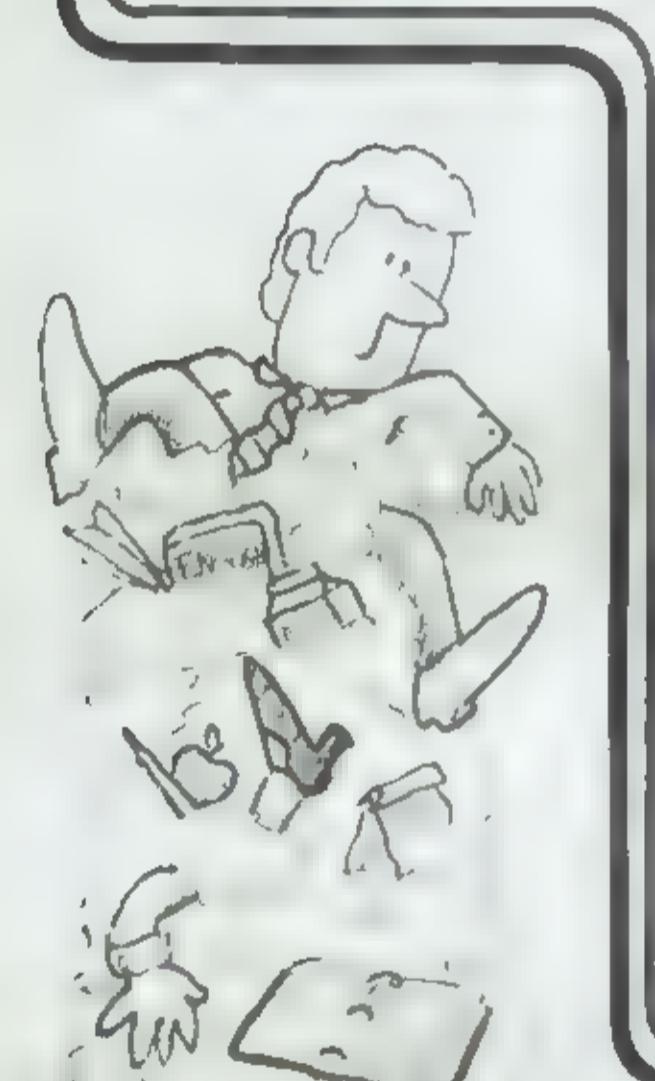

SOCIAL STUDIES Seniors learn of legislature

This year we witnessed a big administrative change in the Social Science Department. Mr. Maurice Reece left his position as department head and teacher to pursue his private business interests. While he will be missed greatly, his chores were ably filled by Mr. Herm Mize, his teaching replacement, and by Mr. Herb Dir, the new department chairman.

A balanced approach to man's culture is emphasized by the Social Studies Department. Offering knowledge of sociology, anthropology and psychology offsets the frequently overemphasized areas of politics and economics. Covering the basics such as vocabulary and working on critical thinking at all levels has been added to the basic curriculum.

1 - Sergeant-at-arms George Pothetes participates in Mock Legislature. 2 Speaker of the House Clay Actor takes the floor in Mock Legislature. 3 - Joe Lewis finds the Resource Center an absorbing place to read. 4 - A weary Mrs. Deberard looks up from her tasks as aide.

PERSONNEL

DISTRICT 7

Milhollen leaves after ten years

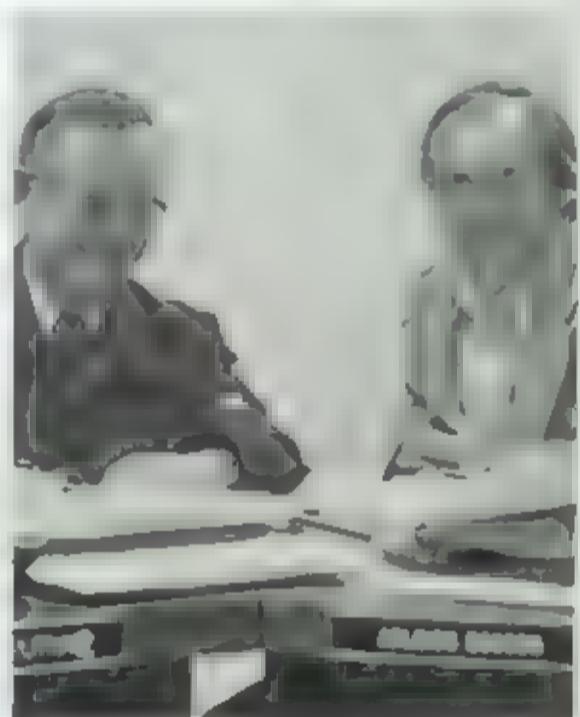

After 10 years as Superintendent of Schools, Dr. Lloyd Milhollen is retiring. During an interview with Dr. Milhollen, he remarked that the job of Superintendent is not as much fun as it used to be because of the financial problems, but I have had a happy career."

Dr. Milhollen expressed pleasure with Lakeridge. He said the school s still holding to many traditions, it has much parental support, and it is very organized.

Although the Independent Study Program has been a controversial issue with the community, Dr. Milhollen thinks the program will last but it might be modified. His reason for supporting the program is that it helps the typical student to learn to budget his time; however, some students cannot accept this freedom.

When Dr. Milhollen was asked what his plans were following his retirement, he commented that he and his wife were planning on traveling, hopefully to the British Isles.

1 - Bruce Bruinsma, Nancy Klinger, and Terry Baker take time out from an important School Board meeting to pose for a picture. 2 - School Board members Jim Putnam and Arleigh Dodson confer over problems concerning the welfare of all District 7 schools. 3 - Dr. Lloyd Milhollen and Deanna Baldwin discuss the future of the Independent Study Program at Lakeridge.

ADMINISTRATORS

Principal Schell discusses views

The Principal is in charge of the overall operation of the school. He is in charge of hiring and evaluating the teaching program which supports the staff, formulating the school budget, purchasing new equipment, maintaining effective communication with parents, and helping to carry out the public's will.

When asked what he thought of Lakeridge compared to previous years, Mr. James Schell commented that the school has been fairly consistent throughout the years. He feels that the enthusiasm has been very good this year and that Lakeridge is the finest high school in the state. One of the areas examined this year was the Independent Study Program.

The highlight for the year, according to Mr. Schell, was the smooth function of parents and the activities in support of the school.

1 - Mr. Galen Spillum, Vice-principal. 2 - Mr. James Schell, Principal. 3 - Mrs. Gay Schroeder and Mr. Lee Knight, Deans of Students.

SENIORS

MERIT SCHOLARS

Three win top honors

This year Lakeridge had three National Merit Scholars. They were David Kraske, Pete Nelson, and Greg Olson. To qualify, they had to be named first as National Merit Semi-Finalists by scoring in the top one-half of one per cent of all juniors in the nation on the PSAT test, and then, by scoring high on the SAT test. All National Merit Finalists are eligible for a one thousand dollar renewable Merit Scholarships and scholarships of up to fifteen hundred dollars based on financial need.

1 - Mrs. Gay Schroeder and Mr. Jim Schell honor National Merit winners Pete Nelson, Dave Kraske, and Greg Olson.

Scott Macy

Scott Macy would have graduated with this class. However, he died in the summer of 1976 from an acute viral infection. He will be remembered for his carefree spirit and outgoing personality. His artistic talent was only one of the factors which added to the shining quality he seemed to carry with him everywhere he went.

Scott was actively involved with many aspects of his church. His interest in the Mormon Youth Group extended to the regional level. Mr. Michael Wendt remembers Scott Macy as all of us will, "with a curious enthusiasm that seemed to reach out to everything and everyone around him."

CLASS

OF '77

*I am the tree in autumn
Bare and bitter
My heart of dreams is
Leaves that drift and dwindle
Life eludes me
Alone and proud I stand
The winds only bend me
The rains cannot break me
But seasons pass and
Spring will come
Then I will be reborn
Budding with hope
And new dreams
My disillusionments will fade and my
Branches will reach to the sky
Underneath this sleep is life
I'll never die*

*Kelly Jo Carroll
1959-1977*

Our class was greatly saddened by the news of our classmate Kelly Carroll's death in April. Kelly was a good friend to many of us and will be remembered as a talented girl and special friend. She was active in Young Life the first two years of her high school career, and she contributed greatly to the Art Department and to the publication of this yearbook.

PARK BENCH

The poet has lost his central position in society not because of poetry but because of society. The descent of the atypical man has heralded our modern world a world where creativity is stifled and value is placed upon uniformity. Our society no longer treasures the unique and creative works of poets, it barely tolerates anything which is not "typical." Our world is firmly founded on molds, masses and assembly lines. In this environment the poet is alone and appears to be speaking for no one but himself yet in the poet is preserved the essence of what man is when removed from the modern world what he was in earlier ages when the poet was prized

Little Leaf

How you make me feel,

Little leaf,

My brother,

You and I together in a

Cavalcade of life.

How you make me feel . . .

You grow through my lamp posts,

My towers,

You wither,

You fall and carpet over earth

And I gather you

Like mounds of ancient builders . . .

Let me ripen with you,

Little leaf,

Companion;

We shall bathe in sunlight — and when winter finds us napping,

Freezes us with icy nipping,

I'll gather you,

And once again we'll warm

The earth that warmed us back,

Not many more weeks before

In the cold winter night
The willing leaf
Opens up to the world.

It's Green
Bug infested leaves
Turn an awesome
Rusted wonder.

In coming days
These enlightening miracles
Shall break away
And fall to their death

Over and over
This miraculous fate
Takes place.

A never ending
Chain of life.
The Creator's
Dream come true.

Castle in the Sky

Though the cold may call it fool's gold
the floor is made of dreams,
The ceiling blue is just a few of my dearest, wildest schemes.
The courtiers here we need not fear,
for only a few plot treason,
Against their creator who in the mind's theater will completely abandon reason.
Drink the wine, for it is the best of fine made but of summer and laughter,
Ask the jays, for on summer days
They he ped me make it faster
By teaching me to fly through the sky
'til we reached the golden sun.
And when we returned we all had learned
Life is but a pun
I look for the door in which I store
my great, big gilded dragon.
And if we shake him we can wake him
but we'll really have to nag 'im
Jesters sing tales of my dragon's scales and we all know it's no lie
Life is dreams, half planned schemes, and castles in the sky . . .

202 Park Bench

I sit and wait and wonder,
And hope,
While the thunder of the rain tears across the window,
And I sit behind it looking from the inside of a fishbowl –
Into a world I cannot conquer
Till the inside I have mastered –
And I race against failure,
And against time, flowing ever faster.

I play a game which is my life –
And it's hard to win; but if
You don't know the rules I guess that makes it hard to lose
As well
And I play a game on paper.

The music in my mind completes a cyclic turn.
Turn, learn, earn, burn, burn, burn!
The rhyming that the masters spurn –
I can't give it up.
Lest my lies split me asunder . . .
